JAPAN PLAYS HOB IN CHINA, SPEAKER SAYS

Russia Seeks to Create Dissension in Eastern Republic, Is Claim

FRANCE IS OPPORTUNIST

English Editor from China Speaks at University of Chicago

Chicago—Japan is interfering with the affairs of China to a greater extent than the other powers; Russia seeks to create dissension; America sincerely desires to aid China but might accomplish more by firmer policy of cooperation with Great Britain, H. G. W. Woodhead, an Englishman, editor of the Peking and Tientsin Times, said in a lecture at the University of Chicago under the Norman Wall-Harris foundation.

Great Britain, Japan and the United States have the greatest commercial interests in China, while France and Russia were described as having important political interests. He outlined their various policies as: "British policy aims at the maintenance of the open door and equality of opportunity, extension of commercial and industrial facilities in China, maintenance of existing treaty rights and peace on the Indian-Tibetan frontier."

AIDED CHANG TSO-LIN

"Japan plays a more active part than any other power in China's internal affairs. It is notorious that she was assisting Chang-Tso-Lin by every means during the civil war in 1924, the result of which was to restore the pro-Japanese Anfu leader, Tuan Chi-Jui to power. One cannot avoid the conviction that there is now an undercurrent of hostility to Anglo-Saxon interests on the part of Japanese officials in China."

"The political influence of the United States has been consistently exerted for the purpose of maintaining the integrity and independence of the republic and equal opportunity. No one doubts the sincerity of America's desire to aid China."

"French policy is opportunist. France supplied airplanes with machine gun mountings to Chang-Tso-Lin without any undertaking that they would not be used for warlike purposes."

"Russian has been concentrated upon fomenting anti-foreign feeling among the Chinese and encouraging them to resist every attempt on the part of the treaty powers to assert their treaty rights."

HIGHWAY 35 CLOSED AT DANBURY VILLAGE

Superior—State Highway No. 35 will be closed to traffic for one month, three miles on either side of Danbury beginning Thursday because of extensive repairs. It was announced Wednesday by J. R. McLean, chief engineer for the Eighth division. No detours are available at the point necessitating a rerouting of traffic from the head of the lakes to the Twin Cities on Minnesota Trunk No. 1, or along No. 11 to Spooner and from Spooner on No. 70 west to No. 35.

Road crews have been losing three hours a day due to the traffic, declared Mr. McLean. A detour north of Danbury makes access to that village possible.

AMERICANS ENTER ESCADRILLE TO AID FRENCH IN MOROCCO

Paris—The new LaFayette escadrille of American fliers formed to assist the French in their fight against the Moroccan rebels, has received the sanction of Premier Painleve and its organizers hope it can leave Toulouse for the front before the end of the month.

The escadrille will consist of 10 planes and 12 pilots, and will have its base at Fez.

The list of flyers is not yet complete, but it includes several experienced pilots and observers who saw service at the front in the World war.

The Americans will enter the service under the banner of the Sultan of Morocco, who has an excellent and well equipped air force of his own.

UPPER MICHIGAN SWEPT BY STORM

Damage Estimated Above $100,000 When Buildings Are Wrecked

By Associated Press

Iron Mountain, Mich.—Wind and rain, unleashed with a degree of fury almost unprecedented in the upper peninsula, swept over this section late Wednesday afternoon and considerable havoc and property damage resulted.

The storm hit the fair grounds at Marquette while a baseball game was in progress and tore the roof from the grandstand and turned the refreshment stand upside down. An ice house near the Dard river bridge, out of Marquette, was wrecked, the roof and side walls collapsing.

Wednesday night electric lights were out of commission at Harvey, Eagle Mills and Morgan Heights, where poles were blown down.

A damage of $100,000 was caused by the storm in and around Escanaba, according to reports reaching here. Telephone, telegraph and electric light lines were put out of commission. About ten barns were reported blown down in Delta-Co. Iron Mountain suffered but little from the storm, which was at its height about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

MILWAUKEE MAN SHOT BY CHICAGO OFFICER

By Associated Press

Chicago—Meyer Harrison, 28 years old, giving his address as Milwaukee, was shot by a policeman Wednesday night when he attempted to flee after firing three shots at a man with whom he had been arguing. The man Harrison shot at escaped unhurt.

The shooting occurred near an uptown elevated station where scores of people were passing. Harrison was seen in heated argument with another man when suddenly he drew a revolver and started firing. Fred M. Jones, a police operator, started after Harrison who ran into an alley. Jones fired twice at the fleeing man and wounded him in the back.

Outbreak of war between uptown bootleggers, the police believe, is the reason for the shooting. At the hospital Harrison said he had just come to town and was on his way to the beach to go swimming.

ALDERMAN WANTS LAW TO PUT LIGHTS ON HORSES

Chicago—Tail lights for saddle horses would be required in an ordinance submitted to the city council. Increase of night bridge party riding has developed a real hazard necessitating the law, argued Alderman McKinley, its sponsor.

Bishop Denies War Of Religion With Science

Chicago—Science and religion are closer to a reconciliation at the present time than ever before. In the opinion of Bishop C. E. Anderson, of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, "Strictly speaking there has been no warfare between science and religion," he said. "The warfare is between the new science and the old science. Contrast the materialistic science of a few years ago with the new scientific doctrine of matter. The old materialism was somewhat arrogant. It boasted that it had explored the heavens and measured the stars and analyzed the contents of the planets and had not found God. It resolved the human body into its chemical constituents and found no soul."

"Against this kind of science religion was at war. It insisted that that was not the way to know God or to arrive at human values. The new definitions of matter have overthrown the old materialism and are more reconcilable with the affirmations of religion concerning spiritual reality."

"The definitions of matter which the learned physicists now are giving, make it form a ceaseless activity instead of the mere solid stuff that we formerly conceived it to be. Matter itself seems to be something quite subtle, ethereal, unimaginable and, one might say, spiritual. It is as rational for religion to postulate God as it is for science to postulate ether."

"A thing cannot be scientifically true and theologically false, or theologically true and scientifically false."

"The chasm between the spiritual forces presupposed by religion and the activity presupposed by the physicist certainly far less difficult than that between the older contrasts of spirit and matter."

Some Railroad Men Regard Plan as Opposed to Private Operation

By Associated Press

New York—An unprecedented plan for railroad increases involving pooling among weak roadroads, will be urged by Charles E. Hughes before the Interstate Commerce commission in behalf of the receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. Hearings will begin at Chicago Sept. 1.

Under the receivers plan, increases in western territory would be pooled and divided among weaker roads in proportion to the extent such roads fall short of earning 5% per cent on property investment. A prosperous road would not receive full benefit of an increase in rates but a weak road would obtain much more additional revenue.

RAILROAD OPPOSED

Some railroad men regard the plan as opposed to the principle of private operation and some go farther, in denunciation and use the words "soviet theory."

Mark W. Potter, former Interstate Commerce commission one of the St. Paul's receivers and originator of the plan, has met these objections by statements that the principles which govern the operation of industrial corporation no longer hold true on the railroads as their earnings are restricted by the recapture clause of the transportation act. The retaining of Mr. Hughes announced Wednesday was somewhat of a surprise, as the investment house of Roosevelt and Co., which is opposed to the reorganization plan of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, recently made overtures to him with a view to retaining him in investigation of the failure of the road last March.

REPORT WORLD PLOT TO OUST MUSSOLINI

London.—The Daily Telegraph reports the existence of an energetic international campaign to overthrow Mussolini and the Fascist regime in Italy. "Occult international forces, from Wall-st to Vienna and from Milan to Moscow," it says, are working to this end, and they have adopted methods akin to those practiced by the Bolsheviks in introducing their own sect against the foreign trade unions. That is to say, emissaries of the forces in question have been enrolled in the ranks of the Fascist for the purpose of sowing dissension and demoralization.

The paper adds that vast sums of money are being spent for the purpose by the anti-Fascists and their financial backers, domestic and foreign.

The shooting occurred near an uptown elevated station where scores of people were passing. Harrison was seen in heated argument with another man when suddenly he drew a revolver and started firing. Fred M. Jones, a police operator, started after Harrison who ran into an alley. Jones fired twice at the fleeing man and wounded him in the back.

Outbreak of war between uptown bootleggers, the police believe, is the reason for the shooting. At the hospital Harrison said he had just come to town and was on his way to the beach to go swimming.

SCOTT, DENIED STAY, AWAITS EXECUTION

By Associated Press

Chicago—Denied his final appeal for a reprieve or commutation, Russell Scott, rated a few years as Canadian murderer, in the death cell of the Cook-co jail, awaited his execution, set for Friday morning. The 30-year-old author of books on business ethics, who was sentenced to hang for the murder of a drug clerk in a holdup, protested his innocence. He said his brother Robert, who had never been apprehended did the killing.

His wife and aged father who have worked continually to save him from the gallows Wednesday appeared to the state board of pardons and paroles in Springfield, but the board declined to recommend that the governor interfere.

WOMEN ASK WIDOW TO SEEK BOB'S OFFICE

Washington, D. C.—Members of the National Women's party, Government Workers council appealed Thursday to Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, widow of the late Wisconsin senator, to enter the race for the senate.

Miss Jessie Dell, chairman of the government workers group, said Mrs. LaFollette expressed gratification. The latter did not indicate her intentions.

U. P. FIREMEN PARADE IN NIGHTIES AT CONCLAVE

Lake Linden, Mich.—George Greenwood of Ironwood was named president and Wakefield was chosen as the 1925 convention city at the conclusion of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association convention here Wednesday night. Several departments took part in a comic nightshirt parade which featured Wednesday night's program of entertainment.

Coolidge Is Friendly To League, He Shows Butler

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.

Swampscott, Mass.—President Coolidge exhibits the friendliest feeling for the league of nations even though it is a settled policy with him that the United States shall not become a member.

Mr. Coolidge's manifestation of friendship for the cause of international cooperation as exemplified by the league, particularly with reference to Europe have come to the surface from time to time, but not so pointedly as in the last 24 hours when asked to comment on the suggestion of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university. After a visit to Geneva, Dr. Butler expressed the opinion that the American minister at Bern should be authorized to attend the sessions of the league so that America might be kept closely informed.

It appears, however, that Dr. Butler referred especially to the use of existing diplomatic machinery so as to enable the United States to be on the inside of conference at Geneva.

The situation at present is that the American minister to Switzerland stays at the legation at Bern and only goes to Geneva, the seat of the league, occasionally, and when specially ordered to do so by the department of state. It is not yet clear whether the American minister could regard the Geneva institution as a part of his regular duties in Switzerland and go there even without special instruction from Washington.

MIGHT BE WISE

This is really what it is supposed here that Dr. Butler is recommending. President Coolidge is represented as feeling that this might be a wise course especially since at present the United States gets its information second and third hand, but he is not prepared to urge a change in policy unless it should become apparent that the interests of the United States are suffering by the present method.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in fact is urging a more comprehensive contact between the United States and the league for information and guidance, because in a place where so many governments are represented, an extraordinary picture of what is going on with respect to international cooperation can be obtained. Mr. Coolidge feels that the matters of public interest handled by the league will receive the attention of the press and therefore indirectly come to the American government. Time when the league officials complained that American news agencies gave Geneva scant attention but this, too, has changed with the decision of leading American press associations to keep resident correspondents in Geneva.

So far as President Coolidge is concerned, it is accurate to say that he wants all the information for the American government about what is being done in Geneva or elsewhere to promote peace among the nations of the world, and if the United States is not getting enough data on what is being accomplished at Geneva he will ask the secretary of state to recommend steps that will achieve that object.

2 DEAD, 1 HURT IN CHICAGO WAR

Police Believe Shooting Is Outcropping of Periodic Gang Feud

Chicago—Two are dead and one wounded in what the police believe is one of the city's periodic gang feud outbreaks. Tony Compagno, son of a wealthy commission merchant, was one victim. He was seated with Samuel Ciminello in a parked automobile on the south side when a closed car drove abreast and halted long enough to permit its occupants to fire a score of pistol and shotgun shots into Compagno.

Ciminello, slightly wounded, was held for questioning.

Another murder mystery was presented early Thursday when Charles Bertucci, a taxi driver, brought to a hospital a man, fatally wounded. Bertucci said the man whose name he did not know, had engaged his cab and that an unknown man had approached the cab and fired three shots at the passenger. Bertucci disappeared before the police arrived at the hospital.

Aside from the mysterious shootings, a policeman driving home in civilian clothes, shot and killed a man who attempted to hold up the policeman's automobile.

LEAGUE ACTS ON NOTE OF BADGER PROFESSOR

Geneva—The temporary slavery commission of the league of nations has decided to communicate to the Portuguese government the report of Dr. Edward A. Ross, professor of sociology in the University of Wisconsin, on labor conditions in Portuguese East Africa. The views of the Portuguese government will be requested and after these are received the Ross report will be considered by the league's commission.

The Ross report discusses forced employment of native labor in Portuguese East Africa. When it was submitted recently to the league's commission, the latter queried the Washington State Department regarding Professor Ross. The state department replied it could express no opinion since Professor Ross was not an American Government official. The commission then decided it would consider the report after receiving the views of Portugal.

U. S. SENDS FRANCE OPINION ON CHINA

Washington, D. C.—An official communication giving a clear and complete statement of the Washington government's attitude regarding China has been cabled to Paris for the information of French foreign officials.

Disclosure of the contents of the communication was withheld. It contains information however, which Washington officials hope will remove any possible misunderstanding between the American and French governments.

GIRL REGAINS MIND AFTER 96-HOUR COMA

Superior—Miss Florence Peterson, injured Sunday morning in an automobile accident and who had been in a state of coma for 96 hours at 12:30 Thursday afternoon, now is able to understand questions asked her, but cannot speak. It was stated at the hospital where she is confined. Her complete recovery is looked for.

An operation performed Wednesday revealed she had suffered a fissure fracture of the skull when she was hurled against a telephone pole when the automobile in which she was riding left the road.

WEST SMILES IN RELIEF AT COOL BREEZES

Milwaukee Sweltered in 93 Degrees While Superior Noted 90

By Associated Press

Milwaukee.—Cool weather for the coming two days is predicted by the weather bureau, after the mercury reached 93 in Milwaukee Wednesday, while the majority of points over the middle west were sweltering in weather which was nearer the 100 mark.

The heat prevailed in the vicinity of Milwaukee longer than the local weather man promised, but when his hunch did get working, the wind switched to the north and the cool air began tumbling in, forcing the mercury down to the low seventies, and drying up some of the humidity.

The temperature will remain in the seventies for the next two days.

HEAT WAVE BREAKS

Superior.—History repeated itself only one day off, in the break of the heat wave which for almost a week had this city in its grip.

In 1924, the break of the wave came on July 15, when a temperature of 83 degrees brought relief after six days of merciless heat during which the mercury hovered at or above the 90 degree point, with an extremely high humidity.

In 1925, July 15 saw the crest of the wave reached and a heat record for the year established when a temperature of 92 1/2 degrees was reached. Thursday, however, with a stiff breeze blowing, the temperature had slumped nearly 20 degrees and at 8 o'clock was but 73.

SALT LAKE CITY SUFFERS

Chicago—The welcome phrase "much cooler today and Friday" appeared at the weatherman's forecast for virtually all central western states where heat records have been toppling during the last few days.

Not much change in temperature, however, was predicted for Montana, Wyoming and other mountain states, which have suffered equally from the summer's hottest blast. The intense heat, which sent the mercury to 104 in Salt Lake City, halted traffic on the Union Pacific railroad near Rock Springs, Wyo., when "heat kinks" caused rail ends to pull from the ties. Corn and oat crops in Iowa are reported somewhat damaged as a result of record breaking temperatures. Des Moines thermometers climbed to 98 Wednesday and at Sioux City a mark of 100 broke heat records of six years standing.

NIAGARA YOUTHS OWN NOTORIOUS ROAD HOUSE

Marquette—Frank Marcella and Herschel Ramey 17-year-old youths of Niagara, when questioned by authorities here Thursday admitted the proprietorship of an alleged notorious roadhouse on the Menominee river near Niagara. The resort is located in the renovated basement of an old residence and is known as the Root house.

The youthful owners were arrested Wednesday night after a raid on their place in which several gallons of moonshine was seized. They were to be arraigned Thursday on a liquor charge.

BOB JR. WILL CONFER ON CONTEST FOR TOGA

By Associated Press

Madison—Robert M. LaFollette Jr., arrived in Madison Wednesday night and is expected to hold several conferences in the next few days with political friends, in regard to the expected announcement of his candidacy for the office of United States Senator to succeed his father, the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

Yellow Signs Designate "Dollar Day" Merchants

Yellow signs in windows of Appleton stores next Wednesday will be a sure indication that bargains may be obtained within. The fifty or more merchants cooperating in this largest of all semi-annual sales have agreed to designate their stores with large yellow posters which bear the inscription that Wednesday, July 22, is Dollar Day. Shoppers are urged to look for these posters and they can be assured that every merchant who displays them has something good to offer.

Dollar Day doesn't mean that everything in the stores sell at a dollar nor does it mean there are no bargains but dollar bargains. It is true that merchants are trying to give just as much as they possibly can for one dollar but it is equally true that they are trying to give just as much of a bargain on everything they have in their stores.

It is impossible for merchants to sell every commodity they have in stock at a dollar. For instance, it wouldn't be fair to expect a merchant to sell a suit of clothes or a washing machine, or a silk dress for a dollar just because it's dollar day. But the merchant will sell the suit and the washing machine and the dress for as many dollars less than the original marked price as he can. The bargain will be just as great, maybe greater, on the more costly commodities as on those selling for a dollar.

The experience of shoppers here has been that Dollar Day is a day of real bargains. Those who have never taken advantage of Dollar Day bargains have something to learn about advantageous buying. They should get their first lesson next Wednesday.

EXCLUDE JURY WHILE STOKES COURT FIGHTS

Arguments on Admission of Scientists Occupies Whole Morning

HEAR TRIAL TESTIMONY.

Attorneys Squabble Over Hays' Belief in Bible's Precepts

By Associated Press

Dayton, Tenn.—Arguments on the question of whether scientific testimony shall be admitted in the trial of John T. Stokes occupied all of the morning session of the case of the young school teacher charged with teaching evolution theories, and was continued into the afternoon when court adjourned at 11:45 until 1:30.

Arthur G. Hays, for the defense had advanced the contention that testimony from experts on evolution was competent. William Jennings Bryan, Jr., Herbert E. Hicks and Ben T. McKenzie, opposing the position in behalf of the state.

Dudley Field Malone was expected to speak for the contention of the defense in the afternoon with William Jennings Bryan and Attorney General A. T. Stewart in opposition. The morning session was enlivened by an exchange between Ben T. McKenzie and Arthur G. Hays, caused by a question from McKenzie as to Mr. Hays' belief in the story of creation. The incident closed with apologies to the court after "none of your business" and "unpertinent questions" were expressions used.

STATE MAKES MOTION

The State of Tennessee made a formal motion to exclude testimony of scientists from the trial of the case. The defense was prepared to put up a determined fight to get testimony into the record from qualified experts on the subject of evolution and its relations to the Bible.

William Jennings Bryan Jr. opened the argument for the state. He was followed by Arthur G. Hays for the defense with Attorney General Stewart closing the statement.

The jury, excluded from the courtroom Wednesday during the testimony of Dr. Maynard M. Metcalf, "test witness," was still out of the room. Dr. Metcalf, a zoologist, gave testimony of evolution Wednesday to show the nature of the evidence that the defense would insist on.

The argument by William Jennings Bryan Jr. marked his first appearance before the court. He characterized the expert testimony suggested by the defense as the "weakest, the most capable of abuse and the most dangerous."

QUOTES DARROW

He said that Mr. Darrow in the Loeb-Leopold trial characterized experts as "purveyors of perjury." During his son's speech, William Jennings Bryan sat just behind his son and listened intently to every word, leaning forward at intervals to hear. Finally the Florida man moved his chair and took a seat several feet nearer his son.

In support of his contention that testimony should be confined to the facts, he cited numerous authorities. The defendant, John Thomas Stokes, sat with his counsel, listened with his elbow on a table and apparently followed the argument closely.

"The only issue this jury must decide is whether or not John Thomas Stokes violated the law," he continued.

"To permit testimony by experts would be to substitute trial by experts for trial by jury."

Among the authorities cited by Mr. Bryan during the course of his brief were many decisions by the Supreme Court of Tennessee.

HAYS RESPONDS

Arthur Garfield Hays responded for the defense.

"First" he said, "the prosecution insisted upon the jury's not hearing the law, now they insist upon its not hearing the facts."

"We admit that Mr. Stokes taught what the state said he taught, not that he violated the law by doing so. I for one, must be shown that there is variance between what he taught and the Bible."

"Our scientists are not here to give opinions. They are here to state the facts of science. None of them are paid by experts. They come here in the interest of science. Does your honor or anyone else know what evolution is without hearing the evidence? If you honor say that opinion evidence may not be produced, may not evidence of the facts be introduced?" He continued.

He argued that under the law anything was relevant as evidence that tended to throw light upon the subject in question.

COUNTY HIGHWAY TAXES CUT BY NEW STATE LAW

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT UNTIL IN 1926, HOWEVER

Whole System of Highway Financing Reorganized by Legislature

Enactment of the new state highway bill into law, including the 2-cent gasoline tax, means a shakeup in the highway finances of Outagamie county, as well as those of other counties. The entire highway financial system, with its 2-mill tax, county and state aid, becomes reorganized. When that reorganization has been completed, taxpayers of this county may look for a reduction in highway taxes on account of the increased revenue which the combined gasoline tax, motor vehicle weight tax and federal aid will yield. No reduction, however, is in sight until after the next county tax levy, due to the fact that the revenue provided by the new law did not begin to flow into the new state highway fund until after June 30, 1925. State aid, therefore, will not be available under the new law until after June 30, 1925. The county will, however, receive its usual apportionment of the proceeds from the motor vehicle license fees collected up to June 30 of this year. But the allotment of state aid, usually made in October, will not be forthcoming this year.

FIND OTHER MEANS

This means that the county board of supervisors in its annual session next November will have to decide upon other means of raising the amount that would have been available under the repealed state aid law. The board might add that much more to the highway tax levy, or it might issue bonds to be retired when state aid is received the following year, or the board might simply pare the budget and limp along for one year with reduced highway funds. The state highway commission, in fact, frowns upon the plan of issuing bonds, as it doesn't think it good policy to mortgage the future year after year in anticipation of state aid funds.

ADD MORE ROADS

When Outagamie county board of supervisors holds its annual session in November, 1925, it will know definitely just how much money it will be entitled to in state aid. The county will receive larger allotments for state highways, additional moneys for the county trunk system and will benefit by the allotments for all local roads and streets in the county not on the state or county trunk system.

THE COUNTY BOARD AT ITS LAST SESSION

Added a number of new routes to the county trunk system which makes the cost of upkeep of county highways somewhat larger than previously. But the improvement and which the county will derive from the state is expected to cut down county highway costs. State aid which will be available to cities, towns and villages for improvement of local roads and streets also may bring about a decrease in county aid.

THE NEW HIGHWAY LAW

Provides repeal of the county allotment of motor vehicle license fees and the old system of state aid, and the changes in the revenue and its distribution.

$14,000,000 INCOME

The state highway commission estimates the total highway revenue for the next year at about $14,000,000. Of which $8,100,000 may come from the motor vehicle weight tax, $4,200,000 will result from the gas tax and $1,700,000 will be derived from federal aid. The estimate for the gas tax covers only eleven months, due to the fact that the tax for June, 1925, will not be collected until July 15, and will therefore not be available during the coming fiscal year.

From the $14,000,000 there will be deducted about $250,000 for administration expenses of the secretary of state, $100,000 for administration expenses of the state treasurer and $100,000 for administration expenses of the state highway commission. The remaining $13,700,000 would be distributed in the following manner: A total of 39 per cent, or about $5,363,000 will be set aside as a fund for the improvement of the state trunk highway system which may be used independently or in conjunction with county projects on state highways. It is intended to close gaps on important through roads. The highway commission will assume the responsibility of marking the state routes, and for this purpose takes $100,000. It also will appropriate about $750,000 to meet federal aid allotments. $250,000 in special appropriations for special bridges, park roads and material surveys, about $4,000,000 for maintenance of the state highway system, slightly less than $2,000,000 will be used for construction. Twenty per cent of it will be returned to the counties for county trunk systems and 80 per cent will be expended on state trunk system, and will be al-

WISCONSIN CROPS ARE DAMAGED BY HEAVY RAIN

The weather for the past week was warm with rains excessive for crops in some portions of the state, according to the weather bureau. Lowlands were flooded, crops were washed out and some oats with heavy straw was lodged. Barley also lodged to some extent. Rye and smut on corn are reported in the western part of the state. The week was too warm for the small grains, which are maturing rapidly. Rye and winter wheat harvest has started with yields fair to good.

The corn crop is making excellent growth with the crop ahead of last year. Tasseling has begun in southern counties. Meadows and pastures are looking well. The late potatoes are also doing well. Vegetable crops are making good progress.

BAKER'S WIFE WAS INSURED FOR $24,350

Berlin Chiropractor Made Conflicting Statements Concerning Fremont Tragedy

Victor H. Baker's denial that his wife was insured when in fact her policies totaled $24,350 was revealed at Baker's hearing in municipal court at Oshkosh Wednesday. He is a Berlin chiropractor and is charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of his wife who was slain by the discharge of a shotgun on the night of June 27 while the couple was camping in a grove near Fremont.

Three Berlin insurance men, George Corvieu, August Monte and Ned Peterson, on the stand in the morning testified that Mrs. Baker, including the double indemnity for accidental death, was insured for $24,350. Dr. Charles Rehling, Fremont physician called to the scene of the fatality following the shooting, testified that Baker, when questioned by him that night, had said, "Not a penny" when asked how much insurance his wife carried.

Witnesses who saw Baker a few minutes after the sound of the shot was heard, said he fell down repeatedly as he ran. He appeared to be grief stricken and over the dead body of his wife cried, "My darling, my sweetheart, my wife."

A. F. Dunham, who gave expert testimony relative to firearms, testified that the gun could not be discharged without pulling the trigger if the gun was in good condition and that the shotgun which killed Mrs. Baker was in what he termed "normal condition."

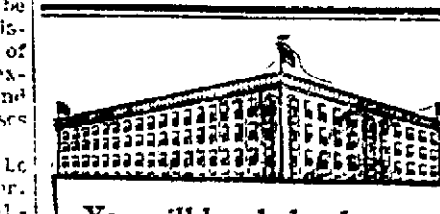

The examination was attended by a crowd that filled the municipal courtroom to capacity and standing room was at a premium. Most of the people were from Berlin.

CITIES GET AID

For maintenance of state highways, counties will get $500 for each mile of primary federal aid highway, $400 for each mile of secondary federal aid highway and $300 a mile for other state highways. Cities will receive the same amounts for streets connecting with federal and state highways. Counties, cities and villages also will receive $1,000 to $5,000 for maintaining free swing or lift bridges on state trunk systems.

Local roads and streets not on the county or state trunk systems will receive state aid at the rate of $25 a mile if in towns or villages; $50 a mile if in cities with a population less than 10,000; $100 a mile if in cities with a population of 10,000 to 40,000 and thus up to $200 a mile for streets in the largest cities. This allowance is for improvement of the roads and streets and will be available on Jan. 1, 1926, and annually thereafter.

About $1,000,000 will be available to the counties the first year for construction or maintenance of county trunk highways.

Sugar Consumption In U.S. Doubled In 25 Years

The consumption of sugar in the United States has more than doubled in the past 25 years, according to statistics compiled by Facts About Sugar, a trade journal.

The total quantity distributed between Jan. 1, 1925, and June 30, was 6,684,289,800 pounds or an average of 55.5 pounds for each of the 114,000,000 persons in the United States. This is an increase of about 2 1/2 pounds per capita over the record for the first six months of 1924.

Since 1897 when the United States adopted the policy of extending tariff protection to home grown sugar, says this magazine, the production within the country has increased from 75,000 tons to nearly 3,000,000 tons while Cuba which has received a part of the benefit of the protection since 1903 has increased its yearly output from a little over 1,000,000 to 5,600,000 tons. The area planted this year to beets in the United States is 14 per cent less than the area planted last year but is 7 per cent larger than the 1923 planting, and 30 per cent larger than that of 1922. Wisconsin is the eleventh state in the list from point of number of acres devoted to this crop. This year there are 23,787 acres of sugar beets in Wisconsin, while Colorado which holds first place has 185,126 acres. There are 790,361 acres in the nation.

Beets began to figure as one of the important crops in the United States 25 years ago and the growth has been such that the production from this source now runs close to 1,000,000 tons and is sufficient to supply the western half of the country, freeing the consumers in this section from dependence upon the imported foreign grown product, says Facts About Sugar.

COUNCIL FAVORS CITY OPERATION OF TOURIST CAMP

Aldermanic Discussion Reveals Feeling City Loses by Abolishing Camp

While the city did not answer the request of the Kiwanis club to provide a caretaker and water and toilets for the land near Alicia park that the club has leased for a tourist campsite, it was evident from the action taken by the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening that some immediate steps will be taken to reestablish the haven for motorists here. The matter was referred to the committee of the whole after Judge Fred V. Heinemann had spoken for the club and the council adopted the committee's recommendation that the board of public works confer with the park board about the proposal.

Judge Heinemann acted as spokesman for a committee of Kiwanians present at the meeting consisting of J. L. Johns, president of the club, John A. Lonsdorf, Dr. M. H. Small and C. O. Davis. The judge said that few tourists were seen in Appleton this year and there was a general belief that lack of a campsite was the cause. This has been a disadvantage to merchants, he declared, as well as taking Appleton "off the map."

SOURCE OF PRIDE

The Kiwanis club is proud of Appleton, the speaker remarked, and is aware that its fame has been spread far because of its splendid camping facilities here. He said that since no campsite was available the Kiwanians took it upon themselves to lease a tract of about six acres on S. Outagamie-st and W. Prospect-ave just west of Alicia park. The land was obtained for the season from Fred F. Wettengel at a cost of $100, he confided.

This land would be tendered the city for its use, said Judge Heinemann further but the club felt that the council ought to help the movement along by providing proper facilities. Request was made for a caretaker, for the piping of water to the grounds from city mains and toilets which would be located on a small lot near the campsite.

Alderman Charles Fose declared that the club was right in its assumption that business was going elsewhere because Appleton no longer had a campsite. He referred to his private capacity of filling station manager and said his company's tourist business this year was far below that of a year ago.

USE ALICIA AGAIN

Revival of the Alicia park campsite was advocated by Alderman Mike Steinhauer. He told of the extensive praise that had been given Appleton all over the country because its campsite was one of the most beautiful to be had. He said there should be no objection to setting aside the north half of Alicia park for this purpose.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength. This preparation for the removal of freckles is so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by all drug and department stores with a guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Don't hide your freckles under a veil or waste time on lemon juice or cucumbers; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first new applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on money-back guarantee.

ANOTHER DISCUSSION OF SCHOOL COURSES

Junior high school study courses and junior high school supplies were discussed at a meeting at the office of B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, Wednesday morning. Principals of the junior high schools, and of the senior high school attended the meeting. Mr. Rohan and Miss Carris Morgan, assistant superintendent also attended. Principals' meetings will be held three or four times a week during the remainder of the summer.

The Principle

The 1900 was the first swing tub washer. Today's improved 1900 Cataract is the latest development of this most popular type. Nothing to lift out and clean. The only washer that swings as it rocks, beating by comparison the greatest water action of any washer made. The Cataract principle is the safest and easiest way to wash the most clothes cleanest in the least time.

2 Cents

MAYOR HAPPY OVER CHERRY-ST BRIDGE OUTLET

Harmonious Attitude of Winnebago-co Board Pleases —Hope to Pave in Spring

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., expresses himself as more than pleased with the action of Winnebago co board when it voted Monday to buy the necessary land through the John Lynch farm to relocate highway 15 and provide a straight roadway between Cherry-st bridge and
W. Foster-st. He offered to go to Oshkosh for the board meeting Monday and take with him others who might be helpful in bringing about a favorable decision but was told by the Winnebago-co road and bridge committee that there was no doubt of the passage of the resolution.

O. C. Rollman of Green Bay, division engineer, stopped here to see Mayor Goodland while on his way to Oshkosh for the meeting. He spoke before the board and was helpful in gaining almost a unanimous vote for the resolution.

OSHKOSH OFFERED HELP

The Appleton mayor learned that many Oshkosh persons had visited the Winnebago co highway commission of late to learn why nothing was done to give Appleton the roadway it needed so the public could use the new bridge. He also consulted Mayor Henry Kitz of Oshkosh, concerning the matter and gained that official's full support. Mayor Goodland found it unnecessary, however, to use any pressure with Winnebago co board because the officials who were here for the bridge dedication realized themselves what the situation was and did not hesitate to lend their assistance. The harmony which has prevailed all through has been pleasing to the Appleton officials, who always believed the cities of the Fox river valley should cooperate in all community matters.

The resolution adopted by the board provides that the road and bridge committee is directed and authorized to do all things necessary to secure the required land for the rerouting of highway 15 as laid out by the state highway commission, to connect with Cherry-st bridge at Appleton.

COSTS COUNTY NOTHING

Mr. Rollman explained to the supervisors that this highway is to be constructed in 1926 according to present plans, and that it will cost Winnebago co nothing. The county is asked merely to advance the money until 1926 when the state funds are available, at which time the money spent by the county will be returned.

Paving of this new roadway will be accomplished next spring. Mr.
Rollman told Mayor Goodland when he was here. State aid will be forthcoming for a 20 foot road all the way from the bridge to Foster-st, he believes. It is the desire of this city, however, to retain the boulevard as now laid out to W. Fremont-st. The nebago co buy enough land that this can be done over the remaining 550 feet to W. Foster st, with assurance that Appleton will have one roadway of the boulevard if the county and state will do the other. One 20-foot pavement will not be enough for this heavy traffic, Mr. Goodland feels, and likes the plan now in use of having one way movement of vehicles on each side of the terrace.

Agreements with property owners who deeded land to the city provide that they will pay part of the cost of paving abutting their property so the expense incurred by the city of Appleton will not be much.

URGE STORES TO BE VIGILANT

Two Merchants Have Shown That Check Forgers Can
Be Caught, Capt. Vaughn
Says

If more Appleton merchants would give the same help as two have done in the last few months, more check forgers, short change artists and others could be captured by the police, declares Capt. P. J. Vaughn, acting chief of police. Every time persons with suspicious actions enter a store,
the department ought to be notified,
he says, so that proper questioning can take place.

Four persons who have been going from place to place issuing worthless checks have been arrested here. The first capture was that of Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Leech, Milwaukee, who were suspected by J. R. Whitman, manager of the J. C. Penney Co.

store. He trailed the pair and had the store take them into custody. Their operations covered many cities in several states and they now are at Waupun serving time for their offenses.

The arrest Monday night of Jean
Kelley of Los Angeles, Calif., and A.
Rice, Chicago, is the second instance.
Their actions were too irregular to suit William J. Ferron of Hassmann-Ferron store and were refused merchandise in return for a check. He turned them over to the police and again it was found that fraud was being attempted. These men are held for trial at Green Bay.

"Merchants usually can detect these schemes if they will ask enough questions of strangers who attempt to pass checks," said Capt.
Vaughn. "We would be glad if the station would be called every time such a case arises so we can find out whether the purchasers are crooks.
Appleton would soon be rid of this class of characters if enough of them were caught here and punished."

DARROW AND EVOLUTION

According to Clarence Darrow human freedom is on trial at Dayton, Tennessee. The liberties of the world are endangered, he says, by the indictment and prosecution of Teacher Scopes. Mr. Darrow is having another emotional and intellectual brainstorm. It is on a par with his utterances in behalf of the criminal world when he defended Leopold and Loeb and saved these monsters from a punishment they so richly deserved. Mr. Darrow is talking through his hat when he tells the court, and the world, to whom he is in reality speaking, that unless the Tennessee statute which forbids the teaching of evolution in the public schools as an explanation of the origin of man is held invalid and unconstitutional human liberties will be at an end.

It is the so-called modernists, the scoffers, the opinionated "scientists," who are making all the fuss. They are demanding that what is nothing but pure theory and speculation shall be accepted as established fact. In this attitude they are no different from the most bigoted fundamentalist against whom they rail. Mr. Darrow and all of the scientists he may bring to his support, if their testimony is admitted, do not know where man came from or what was the origin of life and the universe.

To inform students of the discoveries of anthropologists, archeologists, zoologists and other investigators is, of course, the duty and privilege of educators. To draw deductions from these discoveries, which are not in any sense warranted by the facts, is another matter. This is what the evolutionists do. When they assume that man descended from the monkey or a species of animal of that sort, it is wholly a gratuitous assumption. The same is true as to the origin of life and of the species.

The world has long since, in the main, placed a liberal interpretation upon the scriptures. It nevertheless holds to the belief that the Bible is an inspired work. The civilized world is still Christian, believes in the teachings of Christ as a manifestation of the will of God, and is reverent to this Supreme Being. When Mr. Darrow objects to prayer in the court room he challenges this Christianity and this faith in God. He challenges the right of a vast majority of people to their faith and belief. If this is not presumption and bigotry on his part, what is it?

Apparently, in Mr. Darrow's opinion, we have reached a stage of development where nothing is to be considered sacrilegious and where there can be no offense to religion, no disrespect for Almighty God. Modernism and the jazz age can desecrate our churches, our religious institutions, our spiritual conceptions, with impunity, and to deny them this privilege is bigotry and a suppression of liberty!

We do not believe the civilized world has quite reached the point where it is ready to throw Christianity overboard at the behest of men like Clarence Darrow and other agnostics, atheists, or whatever they may be. We believe it prefers to cling to the faith in which it has been nurtured for centuries, and without which life becomes a purposeless and barren thing. When the court at Dayton overruled Mr. Darrow's objection to opening the days proceedings with prayer, it performed a right and proper service to religious America. Had the judge yielded to Mr. Darrow's objection, the time would soon come when a demand would be made that Congress dispense with chaplains and the senate and the house no longer convene with prayer. It will be a dark day for America when it discards as its spiritual leaders religionists like Lincoln, McKinley, Wilson, Coolidge and its great divines, for men like Darrow and those who are raising the hullabaloo down in Tennessee. Not even by the widest stretch of the imagination is intellectual freedom involved in the demands they are seeking to force upon the people of Tennessee.

RUSTED RAILS

For 40 miles across the fields the track was laid. For a few years engines puffed by hauling heavy loads of freight. Then something happened—the line was abandoned and for 15 years there has been no traffic. Nothing now remains of the once active railroad but rusted rails.

Every man's life has some areas traversed by rusted rails. Fine interests which once occupied the attention and filled the soul with great ideals and aspirations have been allowed to fall into neglect.

Charles Darwin, in his youth, was an excellent musician and an intelligent reader of poetry, but years of scientific study absorbed his attention and in his late years music became stupidly dull and poetry positively distasteful to him.

On the walls of a home in our city there hang nearly a score of paintings more than ordinarily creditable. "Mother did them before the children were born but she hasn't touched a brush in 15 years," is the explanation you get from the family. Rusted rails!

"I haven't time to read, my business keeps me tied so close," says the business man who was, a few years ago, a brilliant college man equally conversant with literature, philosophy and world politics. Today he is merely a business machine. More rusted rails!

"We used to go to church. We ought to go now, but we have just lost the habit." "When John and I were first married we used to take a lot of little trips together, but we haven't been anywhere together for years." "I used to sing in the choir, but I have gotten clear away from it of late years." Can't you see the rusted rails behind these comments?

The scenery along that abandoned line of railroad is as beautiful as ever. There is just as much freight to be hauled. There are fascinating hours to be spent with books, at church and in the family's company.

Try a trip over the rusted rails tomorrow!

THE OPEN TRAFFIC

It will cost 50 cents apiece to keep us all sober next year. At least $56,000,000 is the present estimate of the cost of prohibition enforcement. It is a lot of money, but if the government will address itself seriously to closing up big business in bootlegging the expenditure of that sum or twice as much will be well worth while.

There will always be individual booze peddlers so long as they can find customers, just as there are individual peddlers of "dope" and "coke." But all they can do, with all the supplies they can get or concoct, will never supply millions of law-breakers.

The thing can be done wholesale only by capital and organized industry. That soon or later becomes visible. It is the only crime which has organized fleets of pirate ships, a wholesome system of automobile stealing and of smuggling contraband both ways across the border, and an international financial and distribution system.

Institutions of that size cannot be hid. When they are closed the small police and small courts can look out for the small bootleggers, and not much harm if they do not catch them all. It takes cargoes, not flasks, to do the business wholesale.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

WORKIN' AT HOME

Whatever your business, whatever your trade, you find that your progress is often delayed. And then, when behind, you decide 'twill be great to work some at home just to catch up to date. You dine in a hurry, then clear off the table, and settle to do just as much as you're able. The plan, I'll agree, is a good one, at that, but how often the little folks knock the work flat. As soon as you've started, there's trouble on tap. For a youngster will suddenly hop on your lap. Your lap, pencil is seized and the dear little tad, shouts, "Draw me a cow and a man, will ya dad?" The well that you wait 'til the tota are in bed, for then, in the quiet, you'll plow right ahead. An hour or two later, your thoughts' buried deep, then wifery complains that you're losin' your sleep. The trouble, perhaps, is it's easy to shirk in the regular hours, 'stead of doing your work. The thought of the home work, no doubt, may be fun, but with kiddies around—well, it just can't be done. (Copyright, 1925, NFA Service, Inc.)

ECZEMA

Eczeema (pronounced ex-e-ma, with the accent on the first syllable) is even more frequently misdiagnosed than mispronounced. A layman's diagnosis of eczeema in his own case or the case of a member of his family, is wrong in six cases out of every 10. The diagnostic mistakes of laymen are often serious because under the false label of eczeema (otherwise known as salt rheum and tetter) more destructive diseases may progress unrecognized. The diagnostic mistakes which physicians make are not likely to bring serious harm if the patient does not pass from observation before the doctor recognizes his error. Eczeema, after all, is just a name for a characteristic skin inflammation, for which there is probably neither a specific cause nor a specific cure or remedy; so it is not a serious error if the doctor mistakes eczeema for something else, but it is a very serious error if a layman mistakes lupus, scabies, syphilis or pellagra for "tetter," for such an error precludes proper treatment for the actual disease. There are a surprising number of people who trifle with serious diseases for months or years through errors like that.

The features which distinguish eczeema from other skin diseases such as dermatitis, erythema, and numerous names too frightful to mention, are so highly defined that even the authorial clash with one another and it is no trouble at all to get two eminent dermatologists to quarrel over the diagnosis as cordially as the most obstinate patient could wish. Most of the authorities agree to this extent: Eczeema is an inflammation of the skin, usually attended with more or less itching or smarting, more or less "weeping" or exudation of sticky moisture and crusting or scaling and cracking of the skin. The attack may be acute (short duration or chronic (lasting). Besides the redness and scaling or cracking of the skin, papules, vesicles, or pustules commonly occur, and these lesions often run together to form infiltrated patches.

That is plenty in the way of description. I have already mentioned that eczeema is not a specific disease, that is, there is no definite cause known or assumed, and neither is it amenable to any specific method of treatment. I can conceive of nothing which I am less capable of telling a reader than what would be good for what the reader tells me is eczeema; and that being so, I never attempt to tell a correspondent what would be good for his eczeema. There is, however, one pathological condition which demands individual consideration, both for diagnosis and for treatment, that condition is eczeema. This is especially true in cases in infants of children. My notion of refined cruelty to a helpless child is subjecting the child to the diagnostic guesswork and treatment of any amateur who pretends to know how to manage eczeema. A condition so extremely variable in its manifestations and course as eczeema, demands the best medical judgment in every instance, and not any cut and dried methods.

Eczeema is a skin disease, generally amenable to diet or local remedies or palliatives. Yet the experts find that there is frequently some constitutional factor which calls for other remedial measures, such as internal medications, diet correction, or attention to organic or functional impairments. How futile to imagine that such a many-sided problem can be met with a package of salve or a twist of the wrist.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Reducing the Bank Roll.

I am taking the juice of two lemons every morning and eat anything for breakfast will it reduce a reader.

Answer.—At the present price of lemons it ought to reduce a reader's bank roll. If you mean you eat no breakfast other than the lemons, that is one good way to reduce, no matter about the lemons. The lemons are just scenery in the no breakfast plan. They're kinda like this "reducing bread" some fatuous fat folk use—along with the very expensive and fairly nutritious bread comes a set of rules restricting the diet of the dupe. Lots of reduction humbugs attain success in that way. Mr. Barnum was right. The average breakfast yields about 900 calories. If you substitute for breakfast two lemons, you take in rather less than 80 calories. It is obvious, therefore, that you will get fat more rapidly on the 900 calory regimen than you will on the 80 calory regimen and vice versa. Oranges or orange juice would be practically the same as lemons or lemon juice, having but slightly more food value.

World's News Told In Brief, Simple Style

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

An extra session of Congress is being hinted at, to prevent the coal strike President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America threatens beginning Sept. 1. Indeed, an extra session's almost certain unless the trouble's settled some other way. The country's sick of coal tieups every fall, and the government knows it.

DEBTS

France and Italy actually are beginning to talk with America about the money they owe her. They won't do more at present than admit they owe it but even that will be a bit of progress. England says she'll expect to be paid also, if France starts paying anybody, which is a complication. America has notified her smaller debtors, like Jugo-Slavia, that she'd like to hear from them, too.

FUTURE WARS?

As for any more foreign loans, President Coolidge has passed out word. In a speech, that there won't be any unless the old world nations make some treaties to make future wars less likely. He likewise mentioned American moral support, which the old world cares a lot less about, however, than about American money.

CHINA

Undeceived by yarns that bolshevism is at the bottom of present trouble in China, the Washington government has let the gratifying news leak out that it sympathizes with the Chinese in their effort to end exploitation of themselves and prevent the gobbling up of their resources and territory by the powers they've been having their latest run-in with. This may lead to a conference and straightening out of the situation, much to China's immediate advantage and the ultimate good of all concerned.

JAPAN

Japan's reported trying to frame up an alliance with France, so as to get a Japanese naval base at the French Far Eastern port of Saigon, a base which would be very useful to her in the event of a falling out with the United States or England. In return it's said she's willing to jump on Russia's back if the Russians ever undertake to join Germany against the French. Diplomats doubt, if France will agree, however, as she naturally would give great offense to this country and the British by doing so.

MOROCCO

France and Spain have decided to make peace offers to Abdel-Krim, the Moroccan rebel chief, which doesn't sound as if they were licking him very fast, in spite of the victories their official communiques report over his forces.

Mount Etna is 10,738 feet high.

The Question Box

There is a reason for all things. This great universe is so constructed that there must be a reason or cause for everything that takes place. It is often difficult for the average person to find out the why of things. He knows that certain things are so, but he does not understand why they are so. This paper supports a free information bureau in Washington which will answer any question of fact you may wish to ask. Whenever you are in doubt about anything write to our Bureau. The hearty cooperation of its experts in answering your queries is assured. Enclose two cents in stamps to cover the return postage. Address The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Hasen, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. How long does it take to go from Berlin Rome? W. E.

A. There is a new service between these cities arranged so that travelers spend but one night en route. Trains leave both capitals in the morning and arrive at their destination the following afternoon. The trip is a distance equal to that between New York and St. Louis. The fast trains between these cities have a 24 hour schedule.

Q. What is the clicking sound made in a Seth Thomas clock about five minutes before it strikes? T. W.

A. This noise is caused by the guard hand rising and releasing the strike lever.

Q. When was the military play "Shenandoah" first produced? McF.

A. Early in 1889 the stock company owned by R. M. Field put on "Shenandoah" in Boston, but it was practically a failure. Charles Frohman later saw it and believed so much in it that he bought the play and successfully produced it September 9, 1889.

Q. What is the new postal rate for post cards? H. J.

A. The Post Office Department says that there is no change in the rate of postage on the government card, the postage being 1 cent. Under the new law the rate on private mailing cards is 2 cent and on advertising cards which do not conform to the size of regulation cards, the postage rate is 1 1/2 cent if card is entirely in print. If not entirely in print the first class rate of 2 cent is required.

Q. How many times has the design of the one-cent piece been changed? R. G. F.

A. There have been coined 17 designs. Some of the changes in design were very slight. The first one-cent piece were coined in 1792, and there have been no years in which pennies have not been made except 1815 and 1823.

Q. How did the name Portland cement originate? H. A. F.

A. The name "Portland" cement was chosen because the color of Portland cement is similar to the color of a building stone which was quarried on the Isle of Portland, just off the coast of the British Isles.

Q. What is the nationality of Gene Tunney? P. C.

A. This prize fighter is Irish-American. His name is James John Tunney.

Q. How many times has the Detroit baseball club finished first and second since 1907? F. F. B.

A. It won the pennant in 1907, 1908 and 1909, and finished second in 1911, 1915, and 1923.

Q. Are there many Chinese and Japanese paintings in the Charles Freer Collection? A. E.

A. There are over 1200 Chinese paintings and about 800 Japanese.

Q. If a person has had smallpox will he ever need vaccination? G. B.

A. The City Health Department says that when a person has once had smallpox, he is immune from this disease and therefore, vaccination is not necessary.

Q. When did the Jamestown Exposition open? T. C.

A. It opened April 26, 1907 and

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

"MARLOWE OF THE MIGHTY LINE"

A curious and highly interesting discovery has just been made about Christopher Marlowe, contemporary of Shakespeare, author of "Dr. Faustus" and a number of other dramas. A record of the inquest held by the coroner's jury into the circumstances of Marlowe's death has been discovered after it had been hidden in official files for three centuries and a quarter.

As a result we know now exactly how Marlowe met his death. Until now it has been largely guesswork and as usual a legend had sprung up that is now definitely disproved by the official document written as a court record at the time and then filed away and not again perused by human eye until after the lapse of 325 years.

The chief item in the Marlowe legend was that Marlowe came to his death in a tavern brawl in a dispute about a prostitute. As long ago as Shakespeare's day the romantic conventions of a murder case demanded that there should be a "woman in the case." And then as now, when there was no actual woman, one was invented. A pious contemporary nonentity of Marlowe's wrote an article soon after Marlowe's violent death in which he asserted that Marlowe had written a tract against the doctrine of the Trinity and that God had punished him for it by having him murdered by a tavern companion in a dispute over a "strumpet."

WOMAN IN IT
That last item was a juicy morsel, fragment of the imagination though it was of a pious fool. It supplied the romantic touch that was needed to make the story catch hold and it was repeated again and again by other writers until it was accepted as undoubted fact. For more than 300 years it has been given in histories of English literature as a fact.

But the discovery of the court document proves conclusively that there was no "woman in the case" at all. Marlowe, a hot-headed young dramatist, and three companions went to a tavern a few miles from London and passed the day in drinking and gambling. It was on all-day session and that the four friends hit the bottle hard is proved by the bill they owed the tavern keeper. It was in fact that bill, and not a woman that robbed the world of a dramatist who gave promise of becoming as great a poet and dramatist as Shakespeare became later.

A DAGGER DID IT
Marlowe was hot-headed and the four men had been drinking hard. A dispute arose over the bill and the drunken dramatist lost his temper. Jumping up he meant to stab one of his companions with the dagger that young men of fashion were in the habit of carrying those days. But the victim of the intended assault was too much for the poet. He not only warded off the blow in the fight that ensued he turned the dagger on his own.

So that it pierced Marlowe's eye and went into the brain. Death was instantaneous.

All this is set forth in detail in the record. It is sworn to not only by the assessor of Marlowe but by the other two men present. That the jury accepted the statements of the three men as correct is shown by the acquittal of the murderer and his absolute pardon by Queen Elizabeth. We know about as much about Marlowe's death now as we do about a murder case tried in court last week and the legend about the "strumpet" has been definitely and for all time disproved.

And so died a man who gave every promise of becoming one of the greatest poets of all time. Marlowe was still a very young man when he died but he had already produced several dramas that have a better right to be compared with Shakespeare's plays than perhaps any others produced by the Elizabethans. Marlowe's plays compare very well with the Shakespeare plays produced up to the time of Marlowe's death. Had Shakespeare died in a tavern brawl at that time he would not be better known than Marlowe is now.

Marlowe is almost invariably referred to as "Marlowe of the mighty line," a reference to the fact that individual lines in his dramas were often stronger than the plays as a whole. By his contemporaries he was regarded as a coming man and that unlucky dagger that day in the tavern robbed the world of one who would probably have been greater than Shakespeare.

Boat Trips Planned For Camp Girls

Three special trips and several short expeditions are being planned for campers who go to Camp Onaway during the three weeks of July 24 to August 14. The annual Crystal river trip, which has always been a favorite with campers on Waupaca lakes, is scheduled for the good swimmers. There is no danger in taking the trip, but there are many small rapids which require some skill in jumping. The trip is about four miles long, and ends at the mouth of Crystal river. The girls will be met with a hayrack at the mouth of the river and will be driven back to Electric dock.

Another interesting day will be spent paddling down Beasley river for about four miles. The river is only about the width of a creek and connects many small lakes, some of which are about the size of a pond. The last lake in the group is called Lake Marle and it is here that the best fishing for the campers is found. The girls will hold picnics and fish from the shores of Lake Marle. The trip down this river is sportier than the Crystal River trip, and passes through beautiful country. The creek is quite shallow.

The Emonds trip is the third planned for the girls. Each river trip starts from Long Lake which is the last of the lakes in Waupaca chain. The Emonds trip takes in about five miles of woody country.

In spite of the fact that many activities are being planned for the campers, no girl will be allowed to overtax her strength. A nurse resides in the camp during the entire outing, and consequently, is at hand if any one needs her.

The physical examinations which each girl is required to have either before entering camp, or immediately upon arrival, is all the leaders need to tell them exactly how much each girl may be allowed to do. The purpose of the camp is to build up the strength of the girls who attend so that they will come home with a fund of reserve health on which to call through the winter.

SAYS SHE WAS ROBBED

Mrs. Dana Collins, a full-blooded Osage Indian, seeks an accounting of her estate in the federal court at Oklahoma City. She claims her father, the late Joseph De Noya, defrauded her of title to the townsite of Whitzbang, Okla., an oil town. The town's name is now De Noya, and she lives there.

Eagles To Hold Picnic For Kiddies

Plans for the picnic to be given for children of members of Fraternal Order of Eagles were made at the meeting of the order Wednesday evening in Eagle hall. Andrew Schiltz is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and will be assisted by Henry Staedt, Roy Koester, William Klumpers and Charles Schimpf.

One of the features of the picnic will be a baseball game between the ladies and leone. Games and contests will furnish entertainment for the children and ladies. Fish ponds and refreshment ponds are to be erected around the park.

The Fife and Drum corps is going to Merrill Saturday with the Appleton Maennerchor for the youngsters. The last rehearsal will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night in Eagle hall and all members of the corps are requested to report.

PARTIES

Mrs. August Arens, 520 N. Center-st., entertained 12 guests at a canned fruit shower Wednesday evening for Miss Enola Van Lieshout of Kaukauna who is to be married August 6 to Dr. R. J. Vannels. A dinner was served at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. George Nixon entertained a group of 12 friends at a bridge party at her home, 814 N. Superior-st., Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Leonard Larson of Milwaukee. Monte Prizes were won by Mrs. Karl Haugen and Mrs. E. S. Colvin.

Mrs. H. P. Schommer, 1229 W. Lawrence-st., entertained relatives at dinner Wednesday evening. The party was given in honor of Mr. Schommer's birthday anniversary.

Miss Ida Staedt 1526 Alvin-st., entertained about 25 couples Wednesday evening at a dance in Maennerchor hall. Music for dancing was furnished by Newman and Koeltzke. The party was given in honor of Miss May Bauman who will leave Appleton on Tuesday to take up nursing in Henrothen hospital, Chicago.

The Order of Martha will hold an ice cream and pie social Sunday afternoon, July 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. O'Connell on the county line road. Mrs. Julia Womers, president and Mrs. Thomas Landers, vice president, will act as chairmen.

Mrs. F. F. Wettengel and Mrs. F. St. Andrews and Miss Ione Nagen entertained 17 guests at a dinner at 6 o'clock Wednesday at the Conway hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lindauer and Mr. and Mrs. Gold Lindauer of La Habre, Cal. After dinner the guests were taken to the summer home of F. F. Wettengel at River Bend where the evening was spent informally.

The Missionary ladies of Trinity English Lutheran church will give a party at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Hearts will be played. The proceeds of the party will go toward the organ fund. Members and friends are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schneider of Hortonville celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday. All the children were present. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Gust Graunke and son of Luxemburg; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Korth and family of Denmark. Mrs. Emma Leitzke and family of Hortonville. John Schneider and family of Black Creek. Mrs. Frank Leitzke of Abbotford. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gibbs of Appleton, Carl Schneider and family of Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mews of Hortonville.

Adventures Of The Twins

What Happened in the Drug Store

Snitcher Snatch left the barber shop where he had done so much damage, and ran hither and yon down the street to a drug store.

Nancy and Nick and Mister Whizz didn't need their aeroplane to follow him this time.

They saw his coat-tails disappearing in the doorway, and they flew after him as fast as they could go.

But when they got inside, not a sign of him was to be seen.

When the soda-water clerk's back was turned, the goblin had jumped behind a big silver bowl full of lemons, and how could anyone know he was there.

"Did you see a little fellow with crooked legs and a long nose?" asked Nick.

"No, sir, he didn't come in here," said the man.

"Yes, he did," said Nancy. "We just saw him this minute."

A fat man with a bald head and eye-glasses, who was buying a cigar, turned around crossly. "I just came in, thank you," said he. "I have neither crooked legs nor a long nose."

"We don't mean you," said Mister Whizz apologizing.

"Then you must be dreaming," said the soda-water clerk. "No one came in here whom I didn't see. So please don't say any more about it."

All right, you'll see," warned Nick. "I hope he won't play any tricks on you—that's all—for he is a rascal. And wherever he goes there is trouble."

"What flavor did you say you wanted, lady?" asked to soda-water clerk to a new customer.

"I'll take vanilla with a little orange and about two drops of raspberry—with chocolate ice cream," said the lady.

But just as the soda-water clerk was reaching for the splot on the soda fountain that was marked "vanilla," he sneezed. And without noticing it he turned on the spigot marked "ginger."

And when he went to get the change he sneezed again and turned on the sarsaparilla instead. And when he went to put in the raspberry flavoring, he sneezed a third time and got root-beer by mistake.

Then he put in the chocolate ice cream and handed it to the lady.

But scarcely had she tasted it than she cried out, "Help! I'm poisoned!"

And out she rushed without even paying for it.

"The very idea!" exclaimed the soda-water clerk. "What on earth do you suppose was the matter? I did the best I could."

The next customer was a little boy.

"I want ten cents worth of bird seed," said the little boy.

The clerk hurried to the drawer with bird seed in it and was just getting a scoopful to put on the scales when he sneezed again.

The bird seed flew all over the store. It got into the quinine and into the borax and into the plasters and into the tooth brushes and even into the ice-cream can.

"Dear, dear!" exclaimed the clerk. "Now I've a fine mess to clean up! I wonder why I'm sneezing so much."

"We know," said Nancy wisely. "If you had helped us to look for the little goblin—it would have saved you a lot of trouble. There he is hiding

DIRECTORS HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

The board of directors of Appleton Women's club was to meet at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the clubrooms. Mrs. S. C. Shannon, president of the club, called the meeting to talk over business which have arisen during the summer.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Alice Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, and Henry Ver Hoven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ver Hoven of Little Chute took place at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart church.

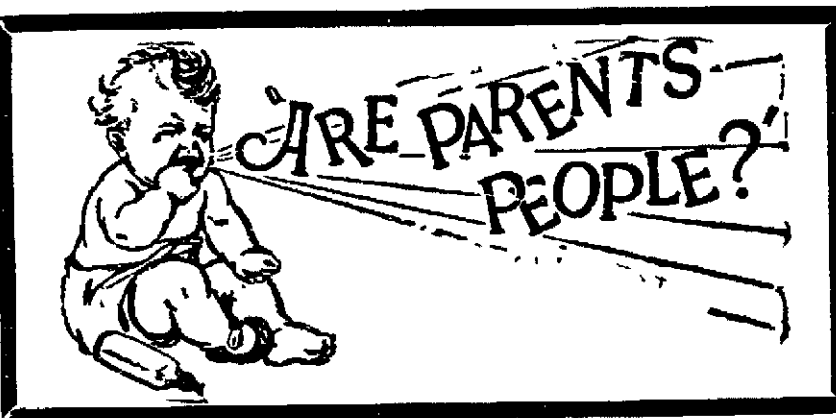

Behind that lemon-bowl blowing snuff all around.

The drug-store clerk made a dive to catch him, but Snitcher Snatch had slipped out of the door.

LETTER FROM RUTH BURKE TO WALTER BURKE, CONTINUED

Few women, my dear Walter, can face facts. When a woman finds enough to recognize that the blame is not wholly her husband's—and few women are big enough—she is lost. Dear, don't laugh at me when I tell you that probably this is why the tradition is grown up that widows make the best wives. You see, widows have gone through all this shattering of ideals. They know what to expect, and as a rule they expect mighty little of a man. Consequently they are surprised and delighted at the slightest conformity in the man they have married to that which they wish their husbands were. They laugh long and loud. You'll have to acknowledge that it is true. You know I am a splendid wife and I was a widow. You know how happy I am when you do something that is in the nature of unselfishness. Besides this I am glad you are able to laugh at a truth. Most truths either make people fighting mad or very weepy.

Leslie's baby is a fine one, they say. Between you and me, I think new babies are very ugly, with their uncertain colored eyes, their little button noses, their slobbery mouths, their bald heads and their red skins. If one could not see the potentialities and if one did not appreciate its helplessness, no one would think a new baby was pretty.

A new-born puppy or a new-hatched chicken are much nicer to look at. I wish, however, you could see little Jack holding that bundle of lace and flannel which encases his "Daddy." It would prove a thrill to you. Already Leslie is making Jack understand his responsibility for his little brother is limitless.

Zoe Ellington is growing very beautiful. In many ways she reminds me of Harry. She makes friends just as easily and throws them off as quickly as she finds one she likes better. Up to date she has only shown this characteristic in regard to the young men who hover about her. She is a perfect little flirt. I am afraid that Leslie will not keep her long as already a number of the young men about the hotel are his devoted slave and shower on her a great deal of attention.

That this attention should be of the right kind, I have taken her to some of the tea and dinner dances, and explained to some of the older women that Zoe is a kind of relation of mine. I have said that as she wanted to be independent after her magnificent education abroad, I had placed her with Leslie as half governess to her children and half companion to herself.

This, of course, makes her place with Leslie a kind of a family affair, and sets her right with all the snobs. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

STATE CAN'T ACT
ON WAUPACA LINE

Street Car System No Longer
Classed as Public Utility—
Decision Due Soon

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—Announcement will be forthcoming from Waupaca Electric Service Co., as to the future of the street car line. The traction firm believes by the end of the week some definite decision will be reached and the public can be informed as to what is to be done this year if anything.

A representative of the city council stated he had a conversation with Mr. Larson of the state railroad commission, in which Mr. Larson stated the commission had no jurisdiction in the matter as the local road had been inactive long enough to be excluded from the list of public utilities over which the state commission could exercise authority. In other words, the street railway has ceased to be a public utility. The city official stated that the tracks had become an obstruction to the streets and could be dealt with through the council accordingly, if necessary, but expressed hopes that some understanding could be reached by both parties and strife avoided.

The exact territory allotted Amherst Electric company in a hearing Monday comprised 12 sections in the northwest corner of the town of Farmington. The remainder goes to the local company.

Arthur John Marold of New York City, world famous hiker and his dog Jack, mascot, were visitors in Waupaca Wednesday on their way to Duluth, Minn. They do not accept rides but walk always. Both Marold and his dog wear shoes manufactured by a Minnesota firm. Expenses are met by sale of cards. More than 36,000 miles have been covered by the pair since leaving New York where Marold was a newsboy in January, 1921.

After a 2-day sojourn at Chain o' Lakes with friends who are stopping there from New York, Marold will be on his way again. To prove his claim of visiting every state in the union by hiking, a file of letters is being written by mayors of all large cities, and from governors of all states.

PAVING STARTS ON STREETS AT CLINTONVILLE

Contractors Will Spread 20,000 Yards of Vibrolithic—Power Contract Closed

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—L. A. Larson & Co., contractors of Oshkosh have started to pour cement on the paving work in progress here and expect to rush the work to completion within a month. The equipment they use lays an average of 1,000 square yards of surfacing a day.

Paving is being done by the batch method; trucks are loaded with proportionate amounts of material at a railroad siding and it will be hauled to a mixing plant located on street. The surface is of vibrolithic concrete which is a patented process whereby the pavement is compacted by small engines.

Streets under construction are: Eighth to west city limits; Eighth to intersection to Eighth; North Main to city limits. This is a total of about 20,000 square yards. As state highways 22 and 26, respectively, pass over these streets the cost will be borne proportionately by the city, county and state and will be approximately $55,000 to $60,000. Clintonville will then have several miles of concrete streets.

Hanschler Bros. shows have pitched their tents in the Bucholtz baseball park, giving their first attractions Tuesday evening. They will be here for one week.

An adjourned meeting Wednesday night the city council decided to enter into a 5-year contract with Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. to furnish light and power to the city of Clintonville. The contract is to terminate or be extended for another five years at option of the city.

An agreement was also reached that the council will enter into a contract with farmers along Pella rd. to furnish them with light and power.

Petitions for sewer and water from freeholders on Sixth and Fifteenth streets were recommended for action.

Mrs. Russell Swenson of Wausau, who has been visiting Mrs. Alvin Billington, returned to her home Thursday, July 9.

STAGE And SCREEN

WILLIAM FARNUM AT HIS BEST
The struggle of a man of marvelous strength and determination, play a lone hand against an overwhelming fate is the theme of "The End Of The Trail" William Farnum's greatest picture presented by William Fox at The New Bijou Friday and Saturday.

That is the opinion of those who viewed this new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. Scenes of terrific beauty, vast stretches of snow-dazzling in the glare of the sun, sweeping blizzards and wind worn peaks all blended into a great drama of the out-of-doors.

The story deals with the plight of members of a railroad construction camp building a tunnel through the mountains. An avalanche which sweeps away the camp and the food supplies isolates the survivors. In the face of a blizzard these hardy men fight their way back to civilization.

Claire Windsor and Pat O'Malley in the leading parts are playing their greatest roles with a touch of sincerity that calls forth great praise. Other members of the fine supporting cast are Robert Frazer, Frank Currier, Mathew Betz, Trixie Friganza, Snitz Edwards, William Eugene, Sidney Bracey, Priscilla Bonner, Roy Laidlaw, David Dunbar, Solin, Milton Ross and Bert Sprout.

The scenario was written by L. C. Rigny and adapted by Monte M. Katterjohn from the popular novel by Courtney Ryley Cooper. Lew Lipton wrote the comedy relief and Percy Hilburn was the photographer.

The big smashing scenes of the Frozen North, the strength of the story itself and the wonderful artistry of Farnum by a wonderful cast makes it an ideal photoplay.

BAKER ORDERED TRIED FOR DEATH OF YOUNG WIFE

Berlin Chiropractor's Preliminary Hearing Causes Issuance of Order

Victor H. Baker, Berlin chiropractor who is held for first degree murder following the death of his wife by the shooting of a shotgun in a grove near Fremont, has been bound over for trial at the September term of the circuit court at Oshkosh.

Judge A. H. Goss, who conducted the preliminary hearing in municipal court at Oshkosh Wednesday, said the many suspicious circumstances in the case caused the ruling. Baker has been out on $10,000 bond and now will be compelled to arrange bail in circuit court.

RAINBOW VETS ARE HOME FROM CHICAGO REUNION

Five members of Appleton chapter of Rainbow division veterans returned Wednesday evening from Chicago, where they attended the annual reunion of the Forty-second division. They were: (L) Edgar G. Graef, who was honored with election as national vice president, C. M. Donnelly, August Arens, Theodore Albrect and Robert Merkel. Others who attended from Appleton were: Thomas Miller, Frank Fries, Harvey Kitter and Harold Craig.

WOMAN INJURED WHEN CAR DROPS IN HOLE

Mrs. Jessie Amoson, Neenah, strained her knee quite badly Wednesday evening when the Buick automobile in which she was riding struck a hole in the pavement. The car lurched slightly, and Mrs. Amoson struck her knee against the dashboard. A doctor was immediately called, and Mrs. Amoson was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where her knee was put in a cast. No bones were broken, it was found.

TWO MORE SPEEDERS AWAIT NEW JUDGE

Andrew Miller, county motorcop, added two more names to the list of speeders who are awaiting the appointment of a new municipal judge. Miller nabbed E. H. Schultz of New London Sunday while he was hitting a 44 mile an hour gait on highway 18, and E. E. Goldsberry of Chicago, was the second victim when he "stepped on it" for a speed of 50 miles an hour on highway 18 Wednesday. Both men were asked to appear later for arraignment.

One Coyote Killed
One of the coyotes which escaped from the Waverly zoo Tuesday night was run over and killed by an interurban car Wednesday. The other coyote is still at large. Someone forced open the lock of the coyote cage Tuesday evening, but authorities at the beach have been unable to locate the offender so far. The animals were tame and people living near Waverly need have no fear of being attacked, it was said.

POLICE SEEK AUTOISTS WHO BUMP BARRICADES

Warning has been issued by Capt. P. J. Vaughn, acting chief of police, that autoists caught driving past the barricades at N. Richmond-st and W. Wisconsin ave will be arrested. Police men have been assigned to watch that place.
Some driver broke down all the barricades and ruined several lanterns Wednesday evening. The police were notified and new lights were put up. Cars have been detouring by way of N. Bennett-st since N. Richmond-st paving work started.
Minor accidents have happened to some of the automobiles that have been passing through by way of the private drive way of Fox River Knitting Co. An unexpected ditch has damaged cars and it is reported that one occupant had a leg broken. This spot now is marked by warning signs to prevent further mishaps.

C. OF C. WILL PLAN TO ENTERTAIN EDITORS

Two chamber of commerce committees, one arranging to entertain Wisconsin Press association here and the other promoting an Appleton exhibit at the Wisconsin Products exposition, will meet at 4:30 Friday afternoon.

The publicity and convention committee, of which R. K. Walter is chairman, is having its first meeting since organization. The Wisconsin Press association starts its annual state automobile tour from this city in August and entertainment is to be provided while the members are here. The organization is composed of editors of weekly papers. A sighting trip, banquet and theater party probably will be arranged.
A sightseeing trip, banquet and theater party probably will be arranged. Reports will be received by Elmer H. Jennings, chairman of the industrial committee, on the success of a canvass of industries of the city to determine their interest in an Appleton booth at the products exposition. This is to be held in connection with the state fair in Milwaukee in August. It is said that there has been much enthusiasm for giving Appleton a boost in this way.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Fetter of Mackville left Thursday for an extended visit with Mr. Fetter's sister at North Tonawanda, N. Y. They also will go to New York city.

TEMPERATURE FALLS OFF 15 DEGREES IN A DAY

Continued relief from the hot weather of the last few days is assured in the weather forecast for Friday which promises lower temperature than Thursday. Appleton people breathed more easily Thursday, for the difference between temperature Wednesday and that on Thursday was at least 15 degrees. The high mark was reached at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the thermometer at the Schaefer Hardware co. showed that Appleton was sweltering under a temperature of 93 degrees in the shade. This thermometer showed a temperature of 75 degrees Thursday noon. Wednesday night at 11 o'clock the mercury stood at 82 degrees.

Blight Kills Flowers

A rather severe blight which has been killing floss plants has been noted during the last few weeks by Appleton persons. The flowers have died quickly and have not come to their full bloom. George Schmidt, who has watched the effects of the blight carefully sent a stalk and blossom to the laboratories at Madison Thursday morning to discover what is killing the flower, and what remedies may be applied to stop the trouble.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed. External treatments seldom cure Piles. Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby. The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.
J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take and can always be found at Schilatz Bros. Co., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. adv.

SICK WOMEN ATTENTION!

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia. — "If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up ever getting well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug-store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and an enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicine I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is." — Mrs. J. A. JONES, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

COUNCIL WANTS TO REVIVE COUNTY FAIR HERE

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO SEEK SUITABLE SITE

Aldermen Vote to Condemn Woolworth Property in Order to Widen Alley

Revival of the county fair for Appleton and the establishment of a place for large public gatherings are projects which were set in motion by the common council at the regular meeting in the city hall Wednesday evening. The aldermen also considered the reestablishment of a campsite, authorized purchase of a building in the way of raising of W. Washington-st and started proceedings to condemn a part of the Woolworth store, so the alley could be widened at the rear. Only minor matters were discussed in the council chamber and those of importance were threshed out in private in a committee of the whole.

The council voted to adjourn to Wednesday evening July 22. There would not be another regular meeting for three weeks and there are some sewer proposals that should be acted upon sooner. They could not be taken up now because assessment of benefit and damages was not completed.

LOOK UP LAND

The county fair matter was brought to the attention of the council in a resolution which requested Mayor John Goodland, Jr. to appoint a committee of three to look up a tract of land which might be suitable for such purposes. The land would be used for circuses, baseball games, race track and other large public gatherings, the resolution said, and it proposed also that the county fair for Appleton be considered again and the place used for that purpose. Alderman Charles Fose arose to explain that the need of such a place had been felt for some time. He said all of the cities in this part of the state seemed to have one except Appleton. He mentioned Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, De Pere, Green Bay, Shawano and many others. The resolution was adopted and Alderman Fose, George T. Richard and Mark Catlin were named by Mayor Goodland to serve on the committee.

After discussion in the committee of the whole the council voted to reject all bids for construction of a cantilever sidewalk on John-st bridge so the entire bridge proper could be used for roadway. The prices were found to be higher than expected and the board of public works was authorized to proceed with the work under the direction of John Hackworthy, street commissioner. Money will be saved in this way, it was said.

AUTHORIZE SIGNALS

Automatic signals were authorized for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad crossings at W. College-ave and S. Cherry-st and W. College-ave and N. Richmond-sts only, on recommendation of the committee of the whole. The committee also went on record as favoring the placing of insurance with local agents instead of taking advantage of state insurance on city buildings.

Raising of W. Washington-st where it passes through the ravine will entail extra expense to George Kirschene, owner of two houses, the street and bridge committee informed the council, and $500 therefore was suggested as the amount of an assessment that should be granted him. This was approved. The city also had an option expiring soon on an old structure bordering on the W. Washington-st ravine owned by Anna Baum. An appropriation of $3,200 was granted for its purchase so it could be removed to prevent its hindering the improvements.

Approval also was given a resolution to condemn property owned by

F. W. Woolworth Co. in block 28 so the alley between N. Oneida and N. Morrison-st could be opened for public use. A portion of the rear of the E. College-ave store buildings would be included in the condemnation. A. C. Bosser, city attorney, said he had tried for a year to induce Woolworth company to either give the city this property or sell at a reasonable figure. The attorney who went to New York to make the adjustment dropped dead when he arrived there. Mr. Bosser said, and the matter never had been closed up. It was understood now that the company had let a contract to place a paved driveway in back of its property.

CATLIN IS INJURED

Alderman Mark Catlin of the First ward wrote a letter to the council from northern Wisconsin voicing his regret that he was unable to be present. He said he was near Superior and had an automobile accident in which he suffered a broken nose.

Wilson and Roosevelt Junior high schools were turned over to the board of education for occupancy by vote of the council, inasmuch as the construction work is finished. Mrs. Anna Kees asked the city, in a communication, to set a price on the former site of the Third ward fire station, as she desired to purchase it. The committee on public grounds and buildings was instructed to handle the matter.

PLAN DRINKING FOUNTAINS

A number of accounts were allowed several sidewalks were ordered built, a few more electric lights were ordered and water mains ordered on portions of S. Victoria and N. Drew sts. The fire and water committee was instructed to obtain prices on drinking fountains to be installed on College-ave. A survey was ordered as to the condition of the N. State-st sewer.

Stillman and VanOoyen plats in the Sixth ward were recommended for adoption by the city planning commission. The report was received and placed on file. It was said by R. M. Connelly, city engineer, that the plats

LAWFUL TO HAVE BEER BUT NOT TO MANUFACTURE IT

Madison.—It is a violation of the state dry law to manufacture home brew or home-made beer if the same is intoxicating, but the mere possession of such home brew in the home is not a violation of the state law, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, in an opinion to District Attorney Otto L. Olen of Waupaca-co. held today.

Under the federal law, the opinion states, possession of any intoxicating liquor, except such specially authorized, is unlawful.

Reward Offered

Reward of $25 is offered for the return of a Ford touring car stolen from Joseph Zoern, Antigo, according to notice received by the police from Chief William Coblentz of that city. The car bore license No. 233,322-B and was a 1921 model.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callahan returned Wednesday from Green Bay where they have been spending two weeks.

were not quite correct and that owners had agreed to prepare revised plans. Several billiard and bill posting licenses were granted and petitions for water mains on S. Telulah and E. Gunn sts were referred to the fire and water committee.

Joseph Nickasch was given permission to remodel the kitchen at his home in the Third ward. A building permit could not be granted because this property was within fire limits. Alderman Robert McGillan was called to the chair during the session of the committee of the whole and the committee rose about 10 o'clock to make its report.

HOMES FIGURE IN REALTY CHANGES

Michigan and Milwaukee Men Purchase Homes Here in Last Few Days

A. M. Walsworth of Marquette, Mich. and D. N. Carlson of Milwaukee have purchased homes in Appleton and will move to this city with their families in the near future. Mr. Walsworth has purchased the Vance P. Edwards home at 908 E. North-st. He is now remodeling the house and will move here with his family as soon as this work is completed.

Mr. Edwards who was connected with the Interlake Pulp & Paper Co. is now at the Forest Products laboratory in Madison. He will leave shortly for Tennessee where he will engage in the paper business. Mr. Walsworth is a commercial salesman.

Mr. Carlson has purchased the H. L. Kerps house on North Fox-st. and intends to occupy it soon.

A number of other important residence sales have been transacted during the last three weeks among local residents. B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, has bought the Herman Beske residence at 311 W. Spring-st. Dr. Edward F. Mielke has purchased a home from Frank St. Andrews at 908 E. Hancock-st. Carleton Saecker has bought the Robert Smith residence on E. Hancock-st. Mrs. Alice McCullough has sold her home at 325 W. Washington-st. to Mrs. M. Miller. Opperman and Arthur W. Jones, 428 E. Commercial-st., has sold his residence to Herbert F. Henke. All these people who have bought homes intend to occupy their recently purchased property.

ACCUSE FREEDOM MAN OF OPERATING STILL

State prohibition officers staged a miniature raid in Outagamie-co Wednesday noon which resulted in the arrest of Lawrence Schommer, proprietor of a "soft drink" establishment in the village of Freedom. The officers are said to have discovered a large quantity of home brew, wine and moonshine whiskey in their wanderings about the Schommer property. No warrant has been issued for the Freedom man by John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, because of the vacancy on the municipal court bench, but it is expected that action will be taken immediately with the appointment of a new judge.

ROHM FAMILY TO HOLD SECOND ANNUAL REUNION

The second annual Rohm family reunion will take place on Sunday, Aug. 2, at the John Koss farm on the old Seymour-rd. One hundred and forty-eight members of the Rohm family attended the first reunion last summer at the Robert Rohm farm, north of Appleton. At this time it was decided to make the affair an annual event. Plans are being made for an interesting program and get-together.

PUT COOLING SYSTEM IN THREE DINING ROOMS

The Coffee Shop, French room and Blue room of the Conway hotel will be equipped with a new cooling system the early part of next week. The system to be installed is called Nu-Air, and is the same type as that put in the Bijou theater and Fischer's Appleton theater this summer.

Air will be drawn in through the roof through 36-inch pipes, blowing into the rooms, at a temperature of 70 degrees when it is as hot as 90 degrees out of doors.

RACER TRAVELS OVER ROAD AT 96 MILE GAIT Menasha Man's Speedster Expected to Reach Speed of 100 Miles an Hour

Menasha—The racing car built by Robert Schlegel and J. F. Gaskie was given its first test Wednesday evening on highway 114 and more than came up to the expectations of its builders, registering a speed of 96.2 miles an hour. The engine is to be equipped with a supercharger and with this change it is expected the speed will be increased to more than 100 miles.

The car was tested in its skeleton frame, but will be "bumped out" with aluminum sheets within the next few days. It is expected this will increase its present speed. While weighing only 900 pounds the car held the road perfectly and the higher the speed the closer it clings to the track or pavement.

Mr. Gaskie is making plans for building a still lighter racing car not to exceed five or six hundred pounds. It will be equipped with an air cooled 4-cylinder motor and will be one of the lightest, if not the lightest machine in the country. It will not be ready for the races the coming fall, however.

PRICE OF EGGS INCREASES AS MEAT ADVANCES

Heavier Demand and Smaller Supply Boosts Costs—Butter Is Higher

A much disputed question which has bothered man's mind through all ages is whether it was the chicken or the egg which came first. But whichever way it happened it is safe to assume the axiom of "no chickens, no eggs," and from this it may be deduced that when there are few chickens there are few eggs. That is just the reason why eggs are selling at a more fancy figure now than they were at this time last year.

Last year the "clucks" were far more numerous than they are now, and consequently "hen fruit" was an inexpensive article on the market. It was in the spring of 1924 that eggs could be had for about 18 cents a dozen. In July of 1924 the price had risen to 25 cents. During the year the selling price of eggs leaped up until they are now being sold in Appleton stores for 34 cents a dozen. One Appleton grocer is now selling eggs for 35 cents a dozen, others get as high as 36 cents and 37 cents a dozen. The lowest price for eggs was found to be 33 cents a dozen, making a range of 4 cents a dozen in egg prices in Appleton markets.

KILLED OFF CHICKENS
The reason why hens are more scarce now than they were a year ago is that the farmers realized very little profit on the sale of eggs last year because they were so plentiful. Some of the farmers even lost on egg sales.

So these farmers took the only course open to them which was to kill off their poultry and ship it to the city markets. This reduction of poultry flocks of course resulted in an increase in egg prices.

Another reason given by an Appleton grocer for soaring egg prices is the poor corn crop of last year. A poor corn crop means fewer cattle, and poorer stock. Fewer cattle causes a rise in the price of beef, and high meat prices means that more people will buy eggs to take the place of meat. Therefore the demand for eggs is greater and the price shoots up accordingly. So the two great economic factors, demand and supply, have operated in this case to cause an increase in the price of eggs. The demand is heavier than last year, and the supply is smaller.

BUTTER UNCHANGED
Butter prices seem to be more stable than egg prices. One grocer said that there was little difference between butter prices of this year and those of last year at this time. This grocer is selling butter at 46 cents a pound. Another grocer, who is selling butter at 44 cents a pound said that butter was slightly higher in price last year at this time. He said he sold butter at 49 cents a pound last July. He said that this was due to the cold spring and summer of 1924 resulting in a smaller milk production.

However, an Appleton dairy company had quite a different information on the price of butter. The manager of this company stated that the wholesale price of butter a year ago was 33 1/2 cents, and that this year it is 42 cents. The retail price of butter is 3 or 4 cents higher than the wholesale price. Statistics given in the Daily Trade Bulletin, published in Chicago would seem to bear out the assertion that the price of butter naturally would be higher at this time than a year ago. According to this paper the stock of butter in storage in the four greatest markets of the country totaled 37,792,600 pounds on July 8, 1925. The amount in these four different markets was: Chicago, 17,994,518 pounds; New York 9,293,194 pounds; Boston, 6,156,277 pounds; Philadelphia, 3,748,620 pounds. In 1924 on July 8 the butter stock in storage in these four great markets was 45,577,402 pounds or 7,774,792 pounds more than was in storage in these markets in 1925.

One grocer feels that the law recently passed by the state legislature prohibiting the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in the state will shoot the price of butter up several cents. Others are of the opinion that

P. G. W. KELLER SPEAKS TO FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Paul G. W. Keller, superintendent of schools at Eau Claire and former principal of Appleton high school, will be one of the chief speakers at the forty-fourth annual convention of the Wisconsin Funeral Directors and Embalmers association which will be held in Eau Claire from July 28 to 30. Funeral directors from all sections of the state are expected to attend the sessions. A program of subjects of both general and technical interest has been prepared, including several nationally known speakers. R. H. Stokes, Eau Claire, member of the executive committee, announced. Among those who will address the convention or give demonstrations are Dr. Preston Bradley, Chicago; Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health, Madison; Dr. F. H. Robertson of the Mayo clinic; Dr. R. E. Lawler, Rochester, Minn., and Dr. Charles Fox Davis.

A get-together dinner, Tuesday evening, July 28, to be followed by a dance will be the social feature of the convention.

This law will cause only a slight rise in butter prices. One grocer thinks the law will be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, and that for this reason people will not have to worry about any sudden rise in butter prices.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS LEARN HOW TO PROTECT FLOORS

B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, Miss Carrie Morgan, assistant superintendent of schools, and A. G. Osterhaus, principal of the Roosevelt junior high school, went to Sheboygan Tuesday to inspect the new high school in that city with a view to getting ideas about keeping school floors in first class shape. They found that the floors of the Sheboygan school are scrubbed and waxed by an electric machine which keeps them in wonderful condition at all times. They are considering using this same method to keep the floors of the Appleton junior high schools in the best of shape. Mr. Rohan expressed great admiration for the fine high school in Sheboygan. This school was completed about a year ago and cost $1,150,000.

SIMPLEST RADIO SET COMES BACK

Don't Need Expensive Receivers With High Power Sending Stations

Activities and expressions of radio manufacturers convey the belief that the radio receiver of the future will be a highly specialized instrument containing from five to eight tubes. Yet the progress of broadcasting leads an observer to conclude that the simple crystal receiver will prevail. That with its promised application for loud speaker use, no more complicated form of receiver will be required.

The reason lies in the advancement of the broadcasting art. Better apparatus is being used in broadcasting. More power is being put into the transmitters. More care is being taken in the rendition and broadcasting of programs. Interferences are eliminated. Distance is being shortened.

And all these factors tend toward the popular return of the crystal. CLEARER RECEPTION
Besides, the crystal itself has been improved and refined. A new type of crystal, in fact, has been perfected, one that promises to be as effective with loud speaker use as any tube has been.

Nothing more could be desired. Distant stations under high power will be coming in, through the improved crystal detector, almost as well as through a many-tube receiver. In fact, the crystal even now affords a clearer reception than the tube, in many cases.

The urge for distance may still prevail. But it is gradually dying out, especially since the distant powerful stations have been coming in so easily.

It is no longer remarkable for the

LOCKERHOUSE TO BE FINISHED BY END OF WEEK

Work on the new locker house of the Butte des Morts golf club is being rushed with all possible speed and it is thought that the building will be completed by July 21. The contractors worked last Sunday on the building to have it completed by the end of this week.

Reservations for lockers in the new locker house are coming in very rapidly, and all the lockers probably will be taken in the next few days.

The first nine holes of the course were closed to players Tuesday and Wednesday while a top dressing was being put on the greens.

east coast to tune in a station on the Pacific. That, of course, can be done only with the better and larger receivers.

THEY'RE ALL ALIKE
But the radio fan is coming to realize that he gains nothing, except the satisfaction of having "covered considerable ground," by tuning in a distant station. Reception is poor. Static is magnified with the distance covered.

And at the same time, programs are just as good here as they are there. Rarely does a distant station offer any better concerts than those offered by nearby stations. And when a better program is scheduled for a distant station, it is either on high power from a broadcaster that can afford the better type of program, or it is transmitted over a chain of stations stretching halfway across the continent.

So even here the fan with the small receiver "gets distance," if not by power, by the interlocking of broadcasters. High power, interlocking, similarity of programs—all tend to discourage the fan with the big receiver from the distance fever and bring joy to the man with the crystal set.

"I like the Violet ones, Mother"

He had come in from play to ask for some Life Savers, his favorite candy.

"I like those new Violet ones best," the little fellow said. And thousands of youngsters agree with him. Vi-o-let Life Savers are selling just like hot-cakes.

Every growing child craves sweets. Active little bodies demand sugar. But children's candy must be pure—and they should not overeat.

Life Savers, the little candy mints with the hole (life-saver shape), answer this problem in just the right way. They are china-hard and deliciously flavored. This means that Life Savers are eaten slowly. Children suck them to make those wonderful flavors

They're safe and wholesome. You may conscientiously be generous with Life Savers for they are the ideal candy for little folks.

Six flavors are displayed at all good stores so you may help yourself: Pep-o-mint, Wint-o-green, Cinnamon, Lic-o-ri, Cl-o-ve and Vi-o-let. Five cents a package.—Life Savers, Inc., Port Chester, N. Y.

The one way to be certain always of perfect Jam and Jelly

SKILL won't do it—even the most experienced housewife knows those discouraging times when jam and jelly just will not set.

But Certo will do it every time. When you add Certo any fruit is bound to jelly. You cannot have a failure.

Certo is the very element in fruit that makes it jelly. This jelly-making element is lacking in some fruits; in all fruits it grows less as they ripen.

But with Certo you can make your jams and jellies from these choicest ripe fruits. For Certo itself supplies the jellying element.

And you can make half again as many glasses from the same amount of fruit. For you only need to boil one minute when you use Certo. It saves all the rich fruit juice and the lovely color and flavor that used to be wasted in steam. Order Certo today from your grocer. Douglas-Pectin Corp., Granite Bldg., Rochester, N. Y.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE, INC.

"Your mother's just like the mothers-in-law in the funny papers," she said when Dick came into the house. "She's been trying to tell me I shouldn't have had cocktails at last night's party. Gosh, I'd hate to sit through one of her bone-dry dinners. They must be ghastly!"

Dick didn't answer her. He stood watching her futile efforts to wipe some stains from the hall mirror. "Here, give me that duster!" he said finally. "You shiny upstairs and make the beds. I'll clean up down here. . . . I'm the world's best parlor maid, if you only knew it!"

Glory stood watching him for a minute or two.

In his own way, Dick was quite good-looking, she thought. He was tall and thin. And there was an eager look in his face. . . . that made him seem splendidly alive.

Of course he wasn't handsome. Like Stan Wayburn. Gloria knew every detail of Stan Wayburn by heart. The cleft in his chin, his polished black hair, his ice blue eyes. . . . and his thrilling way of looking at you.

Dick came toward her across the living room, shoving the vacuum sweeper ahead of him as he came. He left broad dusty streaks on the rug behind him.

Glory laughed. "Gosh, but you're doing a hum job of house cleaning!" she said. Dick dropped the sweeper and caught her in his arms to kiss away her laughter.

"No! No!" Glory cried. With all her strength she pushed him away from her and ran upstairs. Stan Wayburn had held Myra in his arms just that way last night. . . . The very thought of him was like a knife twisting in her heart.

What was there about Myra Gail that made all the men fall in love with her, Glory wondered.

Myra, with her sullen gray eyes wasn't even pretty. She talked very little in her drawing, husky voice. She didn't try to please anyone, particularly. . . . It must be her clothes that made her so alluring. . . . that turned the trick, Glory decided.

For there was no doubt that Myra had wonderful clothes. She bought them in Paris. . . . Glory stopped making beds and opened the door of her clothes-closet.

With a new scorn she surveyed the dresses hanging there. A few weeks ago when she had bought them for her trousseau she had thought them beautiful.

Now she saw that there were too many ruffles on them, too many buttons, too much fringe. Even the colors were wrong! . . . They should be subtle greens and dusky grays like Myra wore. . . . Instead of bright blues and fringed reds. . . . Well, was there any reason why she shouldn't have clothes like Myra's if she wanted them?

Of course, if she asked Dick for them he would be sure to say he couldn't afford them for her. But she wouldn't ask him! . . . She would simply go and buy them!

After all, it was no crime to have a few becoming clothes, was it?

She would buy a dress of cream and amber to match her skin and hair! . . . She would buy black velvet to set off the pearly whiteness of her neck and arms! . . . And a scarf of real lace like foam along the edge of a wave!

She would beat Myra Gail at her own game! Stan would never look at Myra again!

Not when he saw Glory with her loveliness dressed as it never had been dressed before!

She wished that it were Monday morning instead of late Saturday afternoon. . . . so that she could go downtown and begin to shop, then and there!

By the time Glory had made the twin beds and had hung a neat row of face towels in the bathroom, it was dark.

Downstairs she could hear the faint rattle and clatter of dishes. She supposed that Dick had finished straightening the house in his slapdash man's way, and was washing the glasses from last night's bout. She fluffed up her hair, dabbed her nose with a powder puff, and started downstairs.

Halfway down the flight of steps she stopped. From the kitchen came the rich odor of broiling ham. . . . Dick must be getting supper!

Glory had a sudden feeling of distaste for the house with its reminders of last night's hilarity. She wanted to get out of it. . . . to go somewhere. To a restaurant. Anywhere.

Above all she wanted not to be alone all evening with Dick. She ran into the kitchen. Dick had on one of Maggie's ginghams. He was standing before the stove, brandishing a toasting fork.

"Oh, take that thing off!" Glory cried. "I hate to see a man in an apron, fussing around the kitchen. It doesn't look manly!"

Dick took off the apron and handed it to her. "Well, if my wife doesn't know how to cook, and won't try to learn to cook. I can't starve, can I?" he asked. "Somebody's got to get our supper. . . ."

"I don't suppose it's occurred to you that there are restaurants in this town?" Glory asked saucily. "And anyway it's Saturday night. . . . we ought to go out and bat around a bit."

She turned out the gas under the broiler.

"Going out to eat is just twice as expensive as eating at home," said Dick. "And, gosh, I'm tired after staying up nearly all last night. I'm all in. As a matter of fact. . . . Come on, Glory, be a sport, for once, and say you'll have a fried ham sandwich at home!"

"Not a chance!" Glory cried. "I didn't have any lunch today, and I'm as hungry as a bear. So hitch up the car, old thing, and we'll drive downtown for supper. . . . And maybe we'll get wild afterward and go to a movie, eh wot?"

She ran upstairs, whistling as she went.

Dick stood alone in the bright untidy kitchen. He was still shaky from his attack of "flu" earlier in the week.

His head and his eyes ached. He was tired to the point of nausea. He wondered how he could sit through a restaurant meal and a moving picture show afterward. . . .

He put on his hat and went out to the garage to start the car. Upstairs in her room Glory was pinning on a black lace hat she had bought in Montreal during her honeymoon.

Ah, she had not gone wrong on that hat! It was perfect. It cast faint shadows under her eyes, and brought out the ivory of her skin.

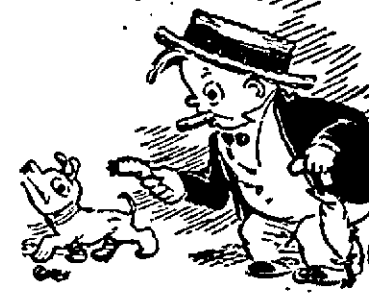

She was twice as beautiful in that hat as in any other hat she ever had on her head! And why? . . . Because it had cost twice as much as any other one that she had ever owned.

Oh, there was no getting away from the fact that anybody could be good-looking who had good-looking clothes! . . . and when you had beauty to start with as she had. . . . Well, you were just plumb crazy if you didn't insist upon beautiful clothes to bring it out! They were your due. . . . They were her due. . . . Gloria's! . . . And, by jinks, she would have them!

APPLETON INVADERS FOND DU LAC IN E. W. CIRCUIT

Baetzmen Have Chance To Climb Over Chilton Into Third On Sunday

Cardinals Plan to Seize Opportunity to Get Back into Tie for First Place

STANDINGS

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|---------------|---|---|------|
| Plymouth | 6 | 2 | .750 |
| Fond du Lac | 5 | 3 | .625 |
| Chilton | 3 | 3 | .500 |
| APPLETON | 4 | 3 | .444 |
| Oshkosh | 4 | 5 | .444 |
| Campbellsport | 2 | 6 | .250 |

SUNDAY'S SCHEDULE

APPLETON at Fond du Lac
Campbellsport at Plymouth
Oshkosh at Chilton

Appleton has a chance to climb over Chilton into third place in the Eastern Wisconsin league Sunday afternoon when the Baetzmen are scheduled to invade Fond du Lac for a game with the Cardinals. Chilton is due to battle Oshkosh at the Sawdust City with chances even, and if Oshkosh wins and Appleton defeats Fond du Lac the Baetzmen will be in third place, less than half a lap behind Plymouth.

Last Sunday the Appleton club recovered from a slump that cost three straight games, noosing over Campbellsport, 7 to 6. Chilton upset Fondy, 15 to 14, while Plymouth bowed to Oshkosh, 3 to 1. Last week's games were a series of upsets with the exception of the Campbellsport-Appleton fracas here.

TEAMS WELL MATCHED
Fond du Lac is planning to climb into a tie for first place with Plymouth at the expense of the Baetzmen. The Cardinals have been going strong with their lineup including several former State leaguers and a wealth of new material, but if Appleton has hit its stride as indicated in Sunday's battle, the Fondy outfit is likely to meet its match.

Plymouth is doped as winner by a small margin over Campbellsport, but it is more difficult to pick the winner of the Chilton-Oshkosh game. All contests thus far have been close, most of them won by one or two run margins. Enforcement of the rule prohibiting the use of outside players is expected to make the race even closer than before, and no matter which team wins, the campaign is bound to be interesting.

MERMAID OF ARGENTINE STARTS CHANNEL SWIM

Cape Gris Nez, France—Miss Lilian Harrison, youthful Argentine mermaid, Thursday began her third attempt to swim the English channel, entering the water here at 4:29 Thursday morning.

Should she succeed in her battle against the treacherous channel currents, she will be the first woman to accomplish the feat, in which only a few men have been successful.

The swimmer's parents and a band of newspaper correspondents embarked at Boulogne on the tug Al-sace, which is accompanying her across.

She first achieved international notice in 1923, when she swam for 21 hours down the River Parana in Brazil. In the same year she swam the estuary of the River Plata, a notable feat.

IOWA TO LOSE TRACK STARS BY GRADUATION

Iowa, which finished fourth in the recent Big Ten track and field meet, will lose several of its stars by graduation. Among them will be Phelps and Coulter, who brought in several points at the classic.

Jamieson, Young Show Reversal of Old Form

BY BILLY EVANS

If at this time last year I had been asked to name the best outfielder in the American league, without hesitation I would have replied:

Charley Jamieson of the Cleveland Indians.

If the same question had been put to me as to the National league, "Pep" Young, the brilliant outfielder of the New York Giants, would have received serious consideration.

If Cleveland and New York had put Jamieson and Young on the open market last season, every other club in the majors would have been willing to pay fancy figures for their services.

Small experts last year named Walter Johnson the most valuable player in the American league. They selected Jamieson as next best.

In the winning of a fourth pennant by the New York Giants, no player figured more prominently in the triumph than Young.

Just one year has passed but it has worked a mighty change in the careers of Charley Jamieson and "Pep" Young.

UNEXPECTED REVERSAL

Without a doubt the greatest form reversal of the year in the majors has been the failure of Jamieson and Young to play up to standard.

TRIBE ENDS LONG STREAK OF LOSING

Cleveland—After having dropped 14 battles out of the last 15, the Cleveland Indians finally came to life the other day by beating Detroit that had copped 11 of its last 12 starts.

It took a big sixth inning to do the trick, however, the Tribes counted five runs in that session, eventually winning, 6-3. The Indians grabbed two more games in the series, making it three apiece.

Considering the winning streak that the Tigers had been compared to Cleveland's losing string, the result of the get-together was more or less of a dope upset.

SEEK NET MATCH WITH WAUSAU "Y"

Appleton Fishing for Return Date With Winners of Tri-city Tourney

After last week's disastrous defeat at the hands of the Wausau team in the tri-city tennis tournament here, the Appleton "Y" is eager for a chance to wipe out that blot on its record, and negotiations now are in progress for a return match at Wausau on July 25. It is possible that Oshkosh also will be represented in the tourney at Wausau, but as yet nothing definite has been heard from the tennis association there.

In the Appleton games Wausau romped off with practically all the honors. The games were slowed up considerably by the intense heat, but Appleton and Oshkosh had the same chance as Wausau and lost. Little was known of the Wausau team's strength before the tournament, and Oshkosh and Appleton were doped to divide the honors between them. Wausau put up a better fight than was expected, however, and won in the singles and doubles.

CITY LEAGUE MOGULS MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

Directors and managers of clubs in the City Twilight baseball league will hold their mid-schedule meeting at the Y. M. C. A. here Thursday night. The meeting originally had been scheduled for Tuesday but was postponed because of inability of several chiefs to appear at that time.

At this meeting the moguls will discuss complaints regarding the employment of "ringers" in league games and other matters pertaining to the league. Teams playing in the league are the Post-Crescents, Y. M. C. A., Footfitters, Bankers, Meyer Press and Chair Co.

WASHINGTON IS AHEAD OF 1924 PERFORMANCE

The Senators are far ahead of their 1924 efforts. At this time last year they were nearly 100 points lower in the standings. On the whole the Nats are showing more speed and running truer to advance notices than any other outfit in the American league.

REMOVED FROM THE LINEUP

At present he is doing bench duty.

There are certain things that happen in baseball that are impossible of explanation. The slump of Charley Jamieson is one of them. I really cannot offer any logical reason for so drastic a form reversal.

Until Tris Speaker took charge of Cleveland, Jamieson had been thrice shifted in the American league. He began his career as a pitcher. Under Speaker's direction he developed fast as an outfielder and batter.

SLUMPS IN BATTING

For six successive years he has batted well over the 300 mark. Very fast, a good bunter, and adept at dragging a ball, and a batsman who hit to all fields, Jamieson was feared by every pitcher in the American league.

This year Jamieson appears to have lost his batting punch, he just can't get the ball safe. His mark has been well below 300 since the start of the season.

While Young's slump has not been nearly so bad as that of Jamieson, he has slipped much at the bat.

For seven years, as a member of the New York Giants, Young has always batted well over 300. This season, on present form he is going to have his troubles even reaching that figure.

Both Young and Jamieson are comparatively young as big leaguers go and I cannot make myself believe that the slump is only temporary.

SEEK HARMON TO FIGHT MITCHELL IN OUTDOOR RING

Milwaukee Promoters Plan to Arrange High Class Card for Fair Grounds

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Milwaukee's first open air boxing show is scheduled for Aug. 7, and in an effort to make the event one which will improve the standing of boxing in the state, promoters are striving to bring together one of the best cards in the history of Wisconsin boxing.

Pink Mitchell, junior welterweight champion, is scheduled to meet one of the best in his class. Efforts are being made to sign Willie Harmon, but the high price asked by Harmon's manager caused some delay in the plan.

The bouts on Aug. 7 card will be shown from a ring built in front of the grandstand at the state fair grounds which will accommodate the largest crowd ever drawn to a boxing match in Milwaukee and leave plenty of additional seating space.

In addition to the Mitchell-Harmon bout, present plans will bring Johnny Yendoloch against some good opponent, and added to this much local interest is being developed over the prospect of Billy Bortfield and Harry Kahn meeting.

Bortfield and Kahn are lightweights, and have met once, the match ending in a draw in the opinion of most newspaper men at ringside. Old timers in the boxing game declare Bortfield to be the best prospect developed in Milwaukee in years. He is a high school boy who boxes from time to time, and then drops from sight, only to reappear wherever scheduled for a match in better condition than before and showing marked development.

Where he spends his time between bouts and his method of training is known only to his father-manager and the boxer.

BADGERS ALTER GRID SCHEDULE

Franklin Takes Place of South Dakota at Madison on Oct. 10

Madison—One change in the 1925 football schedule of the University of Wisconsin has been announced by the department of athletics. On Oct. 10, Franklin will play at Madison in the second preliminary game in place of South Dakota, previously scheduled.

THE SCHEDULE FOLLOWS:

Oct. 3—Iowa State at Madison.
Oct. 10—Franklin college at Madison.
Oct. 17—Michigan at Madison.
Oct. 24—Purdue at Madison.
Oct. 31—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 7—Iowa at Iowa City.
Nov. 14—Michigan Aggies at Madison.
Nov. 21—Chicago at Chicago.

BRITISH SCULL CHAMP BEATS WALTER HOOVER

Putney, England—Jack Beresford, Jr., English champion single sculler, Monday defeated the challenging oarsman, Walter M. Hoover of Philadelphia in a special race over a course of 1 1/2 miles for the Philadelphia gold challenge cup. Beresford won by three lengths.

Beresford, present holder of the cup had announced previously he would return it to America whether he won or lost Monday.

Hoover fouled Beresford early in the race, and as result the Englishman got a two lengths lead. However, after the finish, Hoover said: "The best man won and he would have won anyhow."

ATHLETICS LEAD FLAG CHASE IN AMERICAN LOOP

Mackmen Take Advantage of Senators Who Bow to Bengals, 5 to 2

New York—The Athletics were leading the pennant parade in the American league again Thursday morning. Three points separated them from the world champions while the Giants were within five points of the National league crest occupied by the Pirates.

A double victory over the White Sox, 11 to 9 and 7 to 5, enabled the Mackmen to pass the Senators, who fell victims to the Bengals, 5 to 2. Miller slammed a homer in each of the Philadelphia triumphs. Ty Cobb collected a pair of doubles and a single off Reuther for the Tigers in three times at bat.

Rube Denton was master in the box when the Braves scattered Corsairs. Bentel yielded six hits while Boston garnered eleven off Morrison and Adams. The Cardinals failed to make headway against Virgil Barnes and the Giants won, 7 to 3. Burleigh Grimes turned out a 5 to 2 victory for Brooklyn over Cincinnati, protecting third place for the Robins. Fournier rapped out his fourteenth homer of the year.

The Phillies dropped the opener of a series with the Cubs, 5 to 3, rain terminating the game in the seventh after Chicago had gone to bat. The reverting of the score to the sixth inning cheated Griffith of a homerun.

After losing a 12-inning battle to the Indians, 5 to 4, the Yankees won the last section of their doubleheader by 9 to 4.

Ken Williams' twenty-second homer.

DEMPSEY READY TO FIGHT IN AUTUMN

New York—Jack Dempsey back from Europe with a cough, is ready to defend his title. He says he expects to meet Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, or Bartley Madden in the fall, and Harry Wills, Negro challenger, next year.

Floyd Fitzsimmons of Chicago is here hoping to arrange a match between Dempsey and Tunney. Madden or some other heavyweight at Michigan City, Ind., on Labor day.

Dempsey and his bride, the former Estelle Taylor, motion picture actress, arrived on the liner Homeric Wednesday evening.

The champion caught cold in Brighton, Eng., but he assured friends that inside of two months he would be ready to fight. He does not want to tangle Wills this year, as he thinks he should at least have one warm up battle first.

"I expect to fight this year," said the champion, "I'm always ready to fight. I don't think anybody believes I fear any man living."

MARKSMEN PRACTICE FOR SUNDAY EVENTS

Appleton Angling and Shooting club will hold a practice shoot Saturday in preparation for the registered shoot next Sunday. Through an error in dates it was stated in a recent article that the registered shoot was to be held Friday. There will be seven events in the Sunday tournament. Six of these will be singles, with the seventh a double, and prizes will be awarded in addition to the division of cash.

of the season figured in the Browns' victory over the Red Sox, 11 to 3.

BANKERS SWAMP SHOEMEN, 10 TO 2

Footfitters Play Ragged Game in Field in Twilight Loop Wednesday

STANDINGS

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|---------------|---|---|------|
| Post-Crescent | 9 | 1 | .900 |
| Y. M. C. A. | 4 | 3 | .571 |
| Bankers | 3 | 4 | .556 |
| Footfitters | 2 | 5 | .286 |
| Meyer Press | 1 | 3 | .250 |
| Chair Co. | 1 | 6 | .143 |

By easily defeating the Footfitters 10 to 2, in a slow game at Jones park Wednesday afternoon, the Bankers advanced to within easy striking distance of the second place Y. M. C. A. club in the City Twilight league. The Bankers got an early start, copping three tallies in the first and again in the third, and another in the fourth. Meanwhile the Footfitters had been unable to score.

The Shoemen managed to grab two runs in the sixth, but the Bankers did likewise in their half and added another in the final stanza. The Footfitters were way off form in their game and ragged fielding gave the Bankers many easy chances to score. Basing for the Footfitters and Buboltz for the Bankers pitched good ball.

The lineups: Footfitters—Adler c., Potter ss, Elias 1b, Basing p, Langenberg 1b, E. Douglas c, Jacks 2b, Dame rf, LaMere, Lf, Starnes 3b; Bankers—Voecck ss, Carlson c, Gerhart 2b, Sauer c, Buboltz p, McKenzie lf, Schreier ras.

EQUIPMENT FOR JUNIOR SCHOOLS ARRIVING HERE

Opera Seats Will Be Installed This Week—Equip Manual Training Rooms

Equipment is now being installed in the Wilson and Roosevelt junior high schools. The buildings have been completed, and opera seats will be placed this week. Machinery for the manual training departments of the schools has been set up and electricians will begin wiring the electrical machines this week. The stoves also have arrived for the domestic science rooms but will not be set in place until the rest of the kitchen furniture arrives, so that the proper arrangement of stoves and furniture can be worked out. Velvet curtains for the assembly stages of the two new buildings are being prepared. One of the curtains is a mulberry color, and the other is a blue similar to the shade of the curtain in Lawrence Memorial chapel. The curtains will be drawn from the sides like the curtain in the chapel.

Work on the high school athletic field west of the Wilson junior high school is progressing rapidly. This field will be used for all major athletic events of the senior high school and the junior high schools. Cinders are being hauled to the track and the playing field has been seeded down.

The foundation of the junior high school unit in the Fourth ward which is to be an addition to the Fourth district school building, has been completed. Laying of the brick walls has been started on this building.

LATE PEAS BETTER THAN FIRST CROP, FARMERS SAY

Late peas are yielding a heavier crop than the early peas according to farmers west of Appleton who are now harvesting the late pea crop and sending it to the Hortonville canning factory. The Hortonville factory finished canning the early crop a week ago and will finish with the late crop in a few days.

There are pea vines on the Hart Leppla and Julius Siebert farms west of the city. These vines are leased to the farmers by the canning company. These machines beat the pods off the vines, and then beat the peas from the pods.

Circus Clown Puzzled By Tricks Of His Boomerang

A clown who tosses the national weapon of Australia so that after meandering widely, it returns and spins on the top of the clown's painted head, is an apothecized William Tell shooting the apple off his own pate, and he should know a great deal about boomerangs.

And yet Fat Valdo, one of the hundred clowns of the great Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey combined shows, who does the stunt confesses himself puzzled by the crooked clubs.

"I don't know why the sticks come back," said the boomerang clown. "But it is the same thing that makes a baseball curve. The trade secret is to throw a curve into a boomerang in the same way that a pitcher throws a curve into a ball."

Various types of sticks fly out and return when Valdo works. Some are the conventional sickle shapes of Australia. The simplest merely two flat, even sticks placed crosswise. With this there seems no possible element in the curved return, save the air currents induced by the spinning. The boomerang affords not only more opportunity than a baseball sphere of being acted upon by the air currents, but also a better chance to the wrist action for imparting the essential spinning motion.

The various courses taken by the sticks are resolvable into two ordinary methods of baseball curving, the "drop" and the "out." The "drop" is pitched overhead with the boomerang vertical to the ground and thrown such, the wrist snapping the spin into it as in baseball. With the "out" the stick leaves the hand horizontal to the ground, and is pitched with the side arm swing usual to out curves. There is, of course none of the melodramatic "wind-up" of baseball.

Says the boomerang clown: "Throwing the boomerang is difficult as difficult as pitching a curve. I learned and developed the trick through sheer practice. I was a juggler and wanted new tricks. I had heard about boomerangs, and began tinkering with them."

Valdo and more than 800 other men and women stars will be here with the Greatest Show on Earth, Wednesday, July 23.

Grand Opening Dance, Fred's Pavilion, Medina, Friday, July 17. Music by Badger Harmony Orchestra. Lots of trick harmony and pep. Chicken supper and refreshments served. General Admission, Gentlemen 50c. Ladies 25c. Everybody welcome.

Palais Garden Orch. playing Valley Queen next Friday.

WON'T BUILD NEW PLANT IN STATE

Beloit Company Decides to Make Its Extension South of State Line

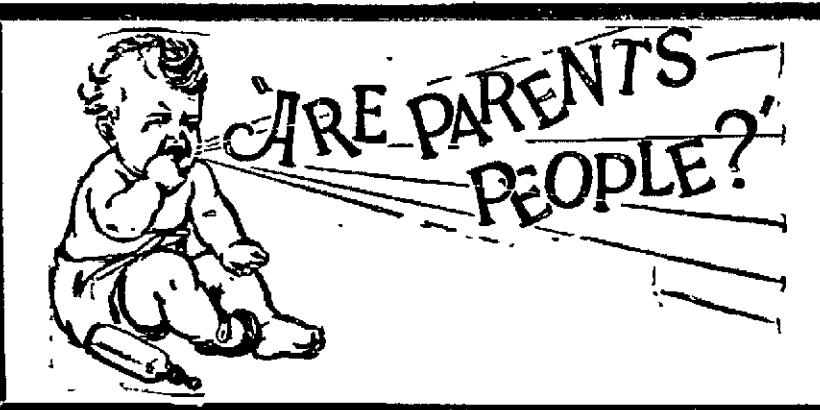

The announcement that Wisconsin is to lose another growing industry because of the high taxes and laws discriminatory to business now ruling in the state was received by local manufacturers in a bulletin sent out by George F. Kull of Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association. Mr. Kull formerly was a resident of this city. The bulletin states that the Freeman Shoe Co. of Beloit is about to build its new plant in Illinois instead of Wisconsin.

Here is what the president of the Freeman company has to say regarding his company's decision to build the new plant outside of Wisconsin: "We are buying land in South Beloit and will build our second factory there to protect ourselves against tax laws that discriminate against manufacturers located in this state. We pay six times as much taxes on our Wisconsin factory as are paid by manufacturers in other states doing a similar volume of business."

"Unless there is some relief from the tax levied upon manufacturers in this state we will abandon our Beloit factory and build another plant for it across the state line on our property there. There was land adjacent to our Beloit plant that would have permitted us to build adjoining the present factory but we simply could not afford to do so."

"The Freeman company started manufacturing operations with a daily output of 450 pairs. This production has now been raised to 2,200 pairs a day, and the maximum capacity of the Beloit factory has been reached. Last year the Beloit plant produced 562,000 pairs of shoes."

"The payroll varies between 280 and 300 persons at the Beloit factory. The South Beloit plant will be larger by about 10,000 feet of floor space."
